Biggest Run in 41 Years

Riches Netted From Fish Run

$24,000 Haul Reported by One Man; Hell's Gate Development Justified

From CP, BUP Dispatches

Teeming millions of sockeye salmon, forced by instinct to a date with death in the spawning grounds of the Adams River in interior B.C., have brought wealth beyond dreams to commercial fishermen.

PLAYFUL MOOD?

Small Boats Endangered By Seiners

"Fish-happy" purse seiner crews, jubilant after making one of the richest hauls of sockeye salmon in 30 years, endangered the lives of anglers off Oak Bay Tuesday night as they swept through the sport fishing fleet on their way to harbor.

"There is no doubt that the smaller craft were 'played with' by the larger vessels," said S. Dacre Scott of the Oak Bay Boat House.

One 13-foot boat was nearly swamped when two of the large fishing vessels, throwing huge, rolling wakes, "sandwiched" the smaller craft between them. A cruiser owner was "stalked" by a commercial craft, and one man with four children in his small boat was reported forced into the safety of kelp beds offshore from Ten-Mile Point to avoid being harassed by the gleeful seinermen.

Edgar "Red" Wells, 850 Victoria Avenue, was literally "hunted down" by one vessel while fishing from his cruiser off the golf links.

"It came right for me no matter which way I went," he said. "I thought it was heading to crash me. It finally veered away when I steered into the kelp to get out of the way."

Some sports fishermen talked of carrying rifles in future if such tactics continue.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson were fishing off Trial Island when two commercial boats passed them at full speed allowing them only 10 feet of clearance.

"The wash almost upset the small boat," said Mr. Scott. "Mr. Robinson managed to keep afloat by bailing, but the boat's wash stopped his motor. He had to be towed in."

Mr. Robinson is a fireman at HMC Dockyard.

One of the offending boats was identified by Mr. Scott.

Half-Billion Property Loss In Hurricane

48 Known Dead; Quebec Suffers

BOSTON (UP)—A new tropical storm boiled north off the Florida coast today in the wake of Hurricane Carol.

The new disturbance, Hurricane Dolly, was reported centered 725 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla., at noon and moving northward at 20 miles an hour.

The weather bureau said it appeared the storm would move north rapidly during the next 12 to 18 hours and gain intensity.

BOSTON (AP)—Hurricane Carol spent itself out in Canada today after ramming through the New England states with a fury that left at least 48 persons dead and property damaged estimated at nearly $500,000,000.

The storm, which expired north of Quebec City, did its worst damage in New England, where it cut a destructive path comparable to that of the disastrous 1938 hurricane.

(Canadian Press from Montreal said the hurricane left two known dead and property damage estimated at more than $1,000,000 in Southern Quebec.)

(The Montreal and Quebec city districts were the heaviest hit by the day-long storm which reached its peak Tuesday night. Blinding sheets of rain, driven by winds ranging to 75 miles an hour, disrupted traffic and communications, toppled trees and caused other property damage and floods.)

(McGill University observatory officials reported that 257 inches of rain fell on Quebec City in a 24-hour period Tuesday. The record is 2.86 inches set August 21, 1952.)

YACHTS DAMAGED

(More than 50 yachts, some valued at $20,000, were torn from moorings at the Quebec Yacht Club in suburban Silley and either sank or were dashed against rocks. Damage there was estimated at $100,000.)

Hundreds of summer homes were destroyed and thousands of small boats were lost or damaged as the storm whipped wildly with gusts up to 125 miles an hour. From the beaches of New London, Conn., it spread northward in a wide path across Rhode Island, Cape Cod, eastern and central Massachusetts and parts of New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont.

Some officials estimated that the damage was the greatest property loss in New England by a hurricane.

WITHOUT LIGHT

However, hurricane Carol was so well plotted that loss of life was far below the toll of 317 persons who perished in the Sept. 21, 1938, hurricane, which struck New England without warning.

Utilities companies said hundreds of communities may be without electricity for several days. At least 150,000 telephones today were reported still out in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Maine.

It was estimated the hurricane had left about one-third of New England's 10,000,000 population without power or electricity.

N.S. Mill Worker Slays Daughters, Wife, Suicides

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—Police said today that a Negro mill worker hacked his young wife and two daughters to death early today and then committed suicide by placing his head under the exhaust pipe of a car.

The triple-murder took place at Lucasville, a small community about 10 miles west of Halifax.

An RCMP spokesman said it looked like "a fairly clear case" of murder and suicide after they found the body of Leo Reginald Oliver, 27, sprawled at the rear of a car whose motor was still running.

Oliver had placed his face near the exhaust pipe and police said there was little doubt the cause of death was carbon monoxide poisoning.

DRIVING CAUTION URGED WHEN SCHOOL REOPENS

A reminder to city motorists that schools reopen next Tuesday was issued by Police Chief John Blackstock today. "There will be 1,000 more beginners this fall than started last year. Most of them have little or no training regarding crossings and every driver must use extra caution. "New students will be taking over duties of crossing patrols and they too will be unfamiliar with the dangers. Extra police will be assigned to school crossings wherever possible and no laxity by motorists will be tolerated," he said.

Proposal To Be Put To 8-Nation Parley

Compiled From Reuters, UP Dispatches

LONDON—The British cabinet today decided to call an early eight-power conference, including the six nations who signed the now defunct European army treaty, the United States and Britain, to discuss an alternative method of rearming Western Germany.

If the agreement is reached on the meeting, it will probably take place in London within the next three weeks, it was learned.

Britain will propose to the meeting that West Germany now should be rearmed, with safeguards against any resurgence of national militarism, and brought directly into the Atlantic pact.

The cabinet took its decisions at a two-hour meeting presided over by Prime Minister Churchill who broke off his country vacation because of the crisis in western defence policies.

The conference would be one of foreign ministers.

The six nations which joined the EDC—rejected by the French National Assembly on Monday—are France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

PRELIMINARY TO NATO

The new meeting would be a preliminary to the special ministerial session of the 14-power Atlantic pact council, as proposed Tuesday by U.S. State Secretary Dulles.

Churchill called in for part of the cabinet meeting Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British ambassador to France; Sir Frederick Hoyer-Millar, British high commissioner in Germany; and Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, permanent official head of the foreign office.

The urgent British cabinet session was held amid the following developments:

1. Washington: Officials disclosed that the United States may ask the Allies to align West Germany with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). The United States sees no other answer to the German rearmament problem, the officials said. However, President Eisenhower and his National Security Council have not reached their final decision on the problem.

"POOL OF RIFLES"

2. Paris: Premier Pierre Mendes-France was reported by informed sources, planning a proposal for German rearmament which would combine into a joint army Europe's soldiers, but not her armies. The plan would bring together as soon as possible new units of German troops—with soldiers from France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—the sources said. This would create a "pool of rifles" rather than a "pool of generals" which would have been built under the EDC, the French sources said.

3. Rome: The Italian government, which waited out EDC, called for strengthening the Atlantic alliance to make up for the collapse of the European army plan. An official foreign office statement emphasized West Germany must be an equal member of the western family of nations.

NATO TO MEET

PARIS (Reuters)—The standing group of the North Atlantic council, made up of the United States, British and French chiefs of staff, will meet in Paris Sept. 14.

On Way Out?

Findings of the McCarthy-Army hearings committee have put President Eisenhower under new pressure to retire United States Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, above. Both Republican and Democratic members of the committee fired criticism at Stevens but the Republicans dealt more harshly with Stevens than with McCarthy. In spite of their party ties the Republicans charged Stevens with exhibiting "mistaken judgment, injudicious action and indiscreet activities." (See story page 5)

New Canadian Bank Notes Next Week

OTTAWA (CP)—About $10,000,000 of the Bank of Canada's new notes will go into circulation next week, it was learned today.

Every bank branch will have a "modest supply" of the common denominations on hand, an official said.

That is the start of a change-over of about 160,000,000 bank notes worth $1,500,000,000 usually in circulation. The switch, for all common bank notes, is expected to take about 1 1/2 years.

The new notes are the first in Canada to carry the Queen's portrait. The reverse sides carry typical Canadian scenes, instead of the present allegorical figures.

Ottawa Decides On Arbitrator

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today the government has decided whom it will name to arbitrate the labor contract dispute between the railway companies and their 145,000 non-operating employees.

He told reporters following a morning meeting of the cabinet that the name of the arbitrator will be announced after his terms of reference have been decided. The labor department was working with the unions and the companies on the terms of reference.

Weary Clem Attlee and Party End Tour Behind 'Bamboo Curtain'

HONG KONG (UP)—Clement Attlee brought his British Laborite delegation out of Red China today from a tour that sections of the British press blasted as ill-timed.

The former British prime minister appeared weary and haggard when he walked off the train, leaning on a cane.

Attlee declined to comment on the Labor party delegation's inspection of Red China's facilities and let Henry W. Franklin of the National Union of Railwaymen do most of the talking.

Franklin appeared annoyed by some of the questions asked by newsmen and answered them sharply.

He was informed by one newsmen that the train which brought the group out of Red China into Hong Kong was the first that had crossed the border since 1949.

"Well, well," Franklin quipped,

"this should be a new approach to world affairs."

When he was asked if jet planes escorted the delegation's plane from the Soviet Union into Red China, Franklin said:

"Oh, I have nothing to say about that and wouldn't know anything about such things. I'm a pacifist, you know."

Franklin said the Chinese impressed the delegation with their "drive and energy," but considered them "miles behind" Britain and the United States industrially.

"They are using every available inch of land for cultivation," Franklin said.

There was no immediate reaction from the group to blasts against Attlee from certain British newspapers.

One editorial writer described the Attlee delegation as "yellow travelers" and others complained about Attlee's boasts to the Chinese who had confiscated British holdings.

The Attlee visit also brought bitter comment from the American press.

Dr. Edith Summerskill, for whom Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov picked a bouquet of flowers while the group was in Moscow, wanted to talk about women's work in Red China.

She said the mortality rate among infants in Red China was only 4 per cent now "and it used to be 20 per cent."

Dr. Summerskill said the source of her information on the improvement of child care under the Communist regime was the superintendent of the hospital at Canton, which she visited Tuesday night before en route for Hong Kong.

Her only political statement was an opinion that Mao Tse-tung was still No. 1 man in the regime and Premier Chou En-lai was still second in command.

SEATO Talks Get Under Way

Delegates From 8 Countries Plan
Pact Draft for Monday Conference

MANILA (Reuters)—Delegates from eight countries splashed through tropical rain here today to attend their first preliminary meeting on the draft Southeast Asian defense treaty to be submitted to the SEATO conference Monday.

They met in the Philippines presidential palace. The main problems they seek to clear up before the conference are:

JUST for the RECORD

SCRATCHLESS: In Gode-rich, Ont., a car driven by Kenneth S. Claus of Grand Bend, Ont., hit a 1,600-pound Hereford bull yesterday.

Claus estimated damage to the car at $400. The bull ambled away without a scratch.

THE DIFFERENCE: In San Francisco assistant municipal court clerk James Devlin, in checking through his old records yesterday, noted that in 1934 traffic fines averaged $259 daily. Today the daily average is $3,900.

"In those days," Devlin said, "the alibis were 'I was hurrying,' 'I was worried' or 'I am sorry.'"

"Today it's 'I blacked out,' 'I took codine' or 'my psychiatrist says I can't help speeding.'"

NO COMMENT: In Ottawa, John Law was fined $75 yesterday for impaired driving.

PERSUASIVE: In Des Moines, Iowa, F. J. Sexauer was accused by police yesterday of using too much persuasion to get his auto parked at the Iowa state fair.

Sexauer was charged with using a gun to force the parking lot attendant to make room for his car on the crowded lot.

THE POET: In Fort Worth, Tex., Patrolman Charles Corb arrested Jesse Ray Gibbs, 26, on robbery charges for foisting his poetry on liquor store clerk Mark Pearce.

Pearce told police Gibbs entered the store and announced:

"This is a stick-up, don't be funny."

"Open the cash drawer, so I can get the money."

Gibbs collected $50 for the poem.

Red Newspaper Calls Opera Star Just Plain 'Drunk'

MOSCOW (AP)—A young Soviet opera star, Arthur Frinberg, was publicly denounced as a drunk in the newspaper Soviet Culture Tuesday and warned he must mend his ways.

Frinberg only last April toured Canada with a group of Soviet performers.

Two other stage personalities, actors Louis Schmitz and A. Korchanov, also got scoldings in an article in the newspaper, official organ of the ministry of culture.

TCA PLANE FORCED DOWN BY BRAWL, PAPER SAYS

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Telegram says that a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane was endangered and had to make an unscheduled landing when six soldiers returning from Korea engaged in a roughhouse fight in the aircraft while it was in flight.

The newspaper says the six were members of the Royal 22nd Regiment and that the plane, which also had a dozen civilian passengers aboard, was forced to make an unscheduled landing at London, Ont.

3 Fishermen Saved When Boat Overturns

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three men were rescued from a life-raft 500 miles north of here Tuesday night after their fishboat, the 50-footer Saru, out of Aberdeen, Wash., overturned and sank.

Prince Rupert radio reported the accident occurred in calm weather 50 miles southwest of Prince Rupert and two miles off Cape George.

The three were picked up at midnight by the fishboat White Swan. A brief message from the Saru's skipper, Harry D. Furford, relayed by the White Swan, said only "Saru sank very, very quickly."

Saru had been trap-fishing in Hecate Strait. There were no immediate details on how the sinking occurred.

Names of those in the Saru along with Furford were not known in Vancouver.

MAKE-BELIEVE MOUNTIE FINED $50

John H. Pollard of Victoria told police it was "just a practical joke" when he represented himself as an officer, but the joke cost him $50 in Colwood RCMP court Tuesday.

Police said Pollard had pulled alongside another car and said he was a mountie and demanded the car pull over. The badge he showed the two men in the car later was found to be an RCAF hat badge.

Police added that he had searched the stopped car. Pollard said he had seen the pair drinking earlier and had only meant his actions as a joke. Magistrate A. I. Thomas did not smile as the fine was imposed.

Junkman Pays $364,000 For Hulk of Famed Empress

LIVERPOOL, England (UP)—Nearby ships whistled their greetings and a little crowd on shore cheered today as the famed liner Empress of Canada nosed off on a historic voyage. But there was no rumble of engines from the big ship's hold, nor the splash of propellers at her stern. Not a passenger rode on board.

For this was the liner's last voyage. Her destination—a breaking yard in Italy where the ship, shattered by a dock-side fire last year, will be cut up into scrap.

The Empress eased out into the River Mersey a little down at the stern by sailing steady behind four tugs. Out in the river the Dutch seagoing tug Zwartee Zee took her in tow.

FIRST 'FLUFF' OF ROYAL VISIT

Someone Forgot Flowers For Duchess at Cenotaph

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—The Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra went by car to Windsor Red Cross headquarters and on to the cenotaph where the first fluff of their visit to Canada occurred.

The duchess was supposed to place a wreath but someone had forgotten to provide it. She and the princess walked up and down the lines of flag-bearing honor guard from chapters of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

They approached the cenotaph and paused doubtfully

while city and police officials squirmed. They turned and walked away, paused again and went back to the cenotaph where both placed bouquets of flowers presented to them at Red Cross headquarters.

Power Dispute May Go To B.C. Government

Ont. Father Charged With Killing Son

Knifing Followed Violent Argument

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (BUP)—John Ganjalowski, 65, an unemployed plasterer, faced arraignment on a murder charge today after his son, Eli, 35, was found stabbed to death in their suburban home.

An empty wine bottle, a glass and a small knife found in the house indicated a violent argument between the father and son preceded the slaying, police said. Rugs were disarranged and bloodstains marked the floors.

Eli's body was found in hall of the house Tuesday night after his young wife, Clara, telephoned police. They said John, the father, was leaving the house when they arrived.

Young Ganjalowski, a painter and secretary of local 407 of the Painters and Decorators' Union of America, had boarded his father. He had four children—David and Dennis, five-year-old twins, Diana, 10, and John, eight.

Walter Kryswiaty, a neighbor, said he and his wife overheard "a big argument with father and the son shouting at each other in their house."

Young Ganjalowski had been stabbed in the throat.

Missing B.C. Man Faces Forgery Charge

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A warrant charging forgery was issued Tuesday against a business executive who disappeared from his home last week after leaving a suicide note.

The man, Philip Henderson, was manager of Peerless Products Ltd., manufacturers of ink and adhesives.

"A great deal of money is involved," police said.

Henderson is the father of five children, one of them a recent polo victim.

Saanichton Fair Aims Toward Class B Rating

Largest Displays in History Promised for 86-Year-Old Exhibition

Canada's oldest fair west of Winnipeg will feature one of the largest assortments of agricultural and livestock exhibits in its 86 years of history at Saanichton Saturday and Monday.

A large livestock and horse show, an exhibition of house hold arts, fruits, vegetables and various forms of entertainment, will highlight the Saanichton fair, sponsored by the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society.

Agricultural Minister Kenneth Kiernan will open the fair at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Albert Doney, president of the society, said the sponsors of the exhibition are hoping this year to raise the status of the fair to the class B category. Exhibitors from all parts of Vancouver Island will be competing, he said.

"The fair will be the biggest ever," he said. "Progressive improvements to the grounds have been undertaken during the year to house the additional attractions."

A total of 59 trophies will be up for competition.

Speclators will see some of the finest breeds of horses on Vancouver Island at a horse show to be staged on both days of the fair.

ROTARY MIDWAY

Other attractions include sport events, square and Highland dancing and a children's fancy dress parade.

The Sidney Rotary Club will operate a midway. The fair will also include exhibits by boys and girls.

The art display will feature exhibits of leather work, pottery, hand weaving, hooked rugs, hand-made gloves, pottery and patchwork quilts.

Fair officials said a small admission charge will be levied on

Saanich Council Considers Asking Aid From Municipal Affairs Minister

Saanich council will decide within two weeks what course of action it will take to settle one of the most controversial issues to face the municipality in years—whether to permit the erection of high voltage transmission line through residential areas.

The council's decision may be to call upon the provincial government to intervene in the "power project" dispute between the B.C. Electric Co. and some 600 Saanich householders.

This was indicated following a public meeting at the Royal Oak Women's Institute Hall on Tuesday, where B.C. Electric officials and Saanich residents argued for more than two hours over the proposed overhead transmission line.

The meeting ended with no settlement in view. The two parties refused to budge from their stand and the problem was left to the council to solve.

Four Methods Discussed

1. Grant the B.C. Electric Co. permission to erect a $1,000,000 power sub-station on Shelbourne Street which would clear the way for the firm to erect a five-mile-long transmission line through the municipality.

2. Turn the case over to the Minister of Municipal Affairs.

3. Submit the case to the Public Utilities Commission to arbitrate.

4. Hold a plebiscite to decide whether residents are for or against the erection of the transmission line.

The public meeting was attended by B.C. Electric and Town Planning Commission officials, real estate agents and over 100 residents living chiefly in the Mount Douglas and Cedar Hill Crossroad districts.

Residents reiterated a demand that the company be forced to sink underground its proposed transmission line to be five miles long and to take a 175-foot right-of-way.

They advanced arguments to show that the overhead line to start from the Goward power sub-station and to connect with the proposed power station on Shelbourne Street would devalue properties along the route for a quarter of a mile deep on each side of the line.

With the municipality whereby the latter would pay to the company an amount of approximately $73,000 per year for 20 years.

3. A surcharge of approximately $7 per year per customer for 20 years to be charged to approximately 10,000 residential electrical customers of Saanich.

These were the company's terms, Mr. Arnott said.

With regard to the overhead power line, he added that the company felt that the devaluation of property along the route had been over-emphasized by the Saanich Voters' Association.

Saanich householders at the meeting strongly objected to the proposal that ratepayers pay the extra cost for laying the cable underground.

COMPROMISE

R. M. Grant, naturopathic physician, said he felt the company should pay as it had the monopoly on electricity in Greater Victoria. But he added a compromise might be reached in this respect.

V. S. Clement, another spokesman for the Voters' Association, pointed out that the people of Greater Victoria were paying higher electricity bills than anywhere else in Canada.

He quoted from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics which showed that the monthly bills in other provinces average as follows: Ontario, $5.16; Quebec, $7.40; Manitoba, $7.24, and B.C. Electric, $11.35.

L. M. Saimond pointed out that 230,000-volt underground cables have been in use in France and other European countries since 1930. He said he saw no reason why the same practice should not be followed in British Columbia.

Fred Maurice, real estate agent, claimed 10,000 properties in Saanich would suffer devaluation if the overhead transmission line was erected through the municipality.

Public works crews in the area struggled down the almost sheer drop to recover the injured soldier from the rock bottom of the canyon.

Name of the injured woman was withheld by police and name of the soldier was not released pending clearance from army headquarters in Ottawa.

HOME BUILDING COURSE OPEN FOR WAR VETERANS

War veterans who wish to learn how to build their own home should register immediately for public courses to be held by the VLA this fall at the F. T. Fairway technical unit, Victoria High School.

George Chatterton, VLA regional supervisor, reports the 18-week courses—two hours one night each week—will start Oct. 5 and 7. In the event of an overflow of applications another course may be started Oct. 6, he said.

While the classes are open to all, Mr. Chatterton urges veterans who wish to take advantage of the new VLA "build your own home" scheme to register right away.

"We have only so many vacancies and veterans who want VLA help to build their homes must attend our courses in order to be eligible," the regional supervisor said. Registrations must be made at the VLA offices in the Belmont Building.

Mixed Fruits

THE PUBLIC PROBABLY HAS forgotten the case of mixed fruit imports which troubled the Canadian Tariff Board some months ago. But the issue thus raised was important and is for the time being settled. Protectionist interests and their supporters, the Department of National Revenue, have been defeated by a judgment of Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson of the Exchequer Court.

Early this year the Department of National Revenue made a remarkable discovery. It discovered that imported mixed fruits were really peaches and must pay a relatively high duty on entering Canada. Then the Vigilant Department of Justice, in a still larger revelation, announced to the Tariff Board that mixed fruits were preserves and must pay a still higher duty. The purpose of all this sea lawyer's argument, of course, was to restrict imports of mixed fruit and hold up the price to the consumer.

The Tariff Board, being composed of reasonable men, had no difficulty in reaching the conclusion that mixed fruits are mixed fruits and not something else. It dismissed the opinions of the two government departments out of hand. Nevertheless, the Department of National Revenue refused to accept this ruling and continued to charge a high and, as it turns out, an illegal rate on mixed fruit imports.

The case finally went to the Exchequer Court and Mr. Justice Thorson has easily disposed of it. He says mixed fruits are mixed fruits and are dutiable only as Parliament has decreed in the customs tariff.

Mixed fruits are not a large item of commerce but this case has raised a vital question and established a far-reaching precedent.

The question is how far government departments can quietly erode, distort and misapply the laws of Parliament, even to the point of defying the plain English of the dictionary. And the precedent established by the Exchequer Court should prevent a repetition of this offense.

The wisdom of any tariff is always open to question and will always be the subject of parliamentary debate. But once Parliament has decided such issues, once a law is written, it must be enforced. The Government should be the last to think of twisting and, in fact, breaking it to serve some pressure group.

'As the Teacher Is . . .'

CANADA'S MAYORS, NOW IN convention, have been given a sobering forecast on education costs. While the heads of municipal councils throughout the country have generally expressed concern over the annual school bill, they have been told by M. E. Lazerte, research director for the Canadian School Trustees' Association, that it will go higher.

By 1965 the total cost of education will probably be $780,000,000 compared to $450,000,000 for the 1951-52 school year, according to that authority.

This increase is forecast as the result of population growth as much as anything else.

There is hard logic in Mr. Lazerte's report. If Canada is to educate a greater volume of young people up to standards as good as or better than those prevailing today, the costs will mount.

How the increase is to be met is a matter of future decision. The inclination to seek federal help on the grounds that federal revenues have grown far more lustily than those of junior governments is widely understood. So is the fact that application of that principle in British Columbia could be expensive to the taxpayers of this province. Since B.C. pays more per pupil than any other part of Canada at this time, it could scarcely hope for commensurate benefits if federal authorities adopted a program of raising lower standard schools by collecting more money from all Canada—including British Columbia.

Apart from that point, and the particular position occupied by British Columbia in school financing, the opinion of Mr. Lazerte on educational expenditure is of concern to all Canadians. He says that the per pupil cost is relatively low, but that taxpayers are not necessarily getting bargains in education. This is so, he infers, because the service for which the taxpayer is giving his money may not be worth what he pays for it.

From that starting point the research authority for the Canadian School Trustees' Association moves to a vital question—the provision and training of the best possible candidates as teachers.

"Education," he says, "is the result of the interplay of human forces between teacher and pupil. What incentive is there for brilliant students to elect teaching when in such work university graduates find poorer prospects for future advancement than in almost any other vocation?"

"As the teacher is, so goes the school."

The argument throws emphasis on British Columbia's current efforts to improve both the standard of candidates and the training they receive for jobs as teachers. Provincial authorities here acknowledge the fact that teaching today offers good returns for the high school graduate who wants to make a reasonable wage with a minimum of time spent in training and preparation. Few jobs offer a girl better remuneration for less preparation than teaching. But if the girl, or if the man, stays with teaching, undertakes extensive studies to improve his or her position in the vocation, the earning capacities do not advance to the degree shown by other professions.

British Columbia's department of education recognizes that point clearly. It is one of the reasons behind present efforts not only to seek higher calibre applicants for teaching, but to improve the standards of those who enter the profession.

It is a point, too, to be considered by the taxpayer. He may be content to lay out a considerable sum of money for education provided he gets value for it. Mr. Lazerte says, with some authority, "As the teacher is, so goes the school." That message surely is addressed to the men and women who pay the bills.

No Good if You Don't Use It

MORE PEOPLE THAN EVER before will have the opportunity to vote in Victoria's December elections. Recent changes in legislation now extend the franchise to the spouse of a registered property owner under the usual provisions of citizenship and age. This means that hundreds may be added to the list in time for the municipal contests at the end of the year.

Here, again, is an example of action by the authorities to serve democratic interests by empowering more people to vote.

Unless some issue of highly controversial content arises between now and December, however, it is safe to assume that a smaller percentage of voters will go to the polls than was the case in 1953. Last year's balloting included a mayoralty contest. That almost invariably results in a higher proportion of voters exercising their right of choice.

The trend is illustrated in the percentages of votes cast in Victoria in mayoralty years since 1949. Then, with a contest for chief magistrate, 53.21 citizens marked ballots. In 1950, the total was 38.74 per cent. A mayoralty fight in 1951 raised it to 53.04 per cent and a lack of that feature in 1952 brought about a fall to 29.24 per cent.

The highest percentage on record occurred in 1938, when a street car referendum together with a contest for mayor brought 63.16 per cent of the qualified voters to the polling station.

The situation in Victoria is by no means unique. The city's voting record compares favorably with that of other municipalities in Canada. But it is not good enough. And it will never be good enough until more people spend the time and effort to determine how public bodies at the lowest governmental level are handling their affairs.

The number of those who stay away on voting day continues to be a vexing commentary on the lack of appreciation by a democracy for its democratic franchise.

Starting the Beautification Project

MEMBERS OF THE CAPITAL City Grant committee appear to have made an excellent choice of site for their $50,000 project this year.

The current funds available for beautification will be spent on Holland Point, an area adjacent to the sea side of Beacon Hill Park for which improvement has been advocated over the years.

It may be assumed that the committee, a group of practical men with the requisite imagination for the job, will combine attractiveness with dignity in the scheme they carry out. Their task is to add to the appearance of the approaches to Victoria's front door. Holland Point is near the entrance to the harbor, into which come the vast majority of our visitors.

Citizens will follow with interest the unfolding of the plan, a progressive, co-ordinated project of concern to all British Columbians who wish to see the beauty of the provincial capital enhanced.

Cooking on All Burners.

Chips

By DAVID BROCK

ABOUT three weeks ago they had a terrific thunderstorm over yonder in Vancouver. (Serves them right. It's a wonder they weren't turned to pillars of salt in that wicked metropolis.) You read about that storm in these pages . . . with a certain satisfaction, no doubt. But you have forgotten it by now. Who wants to remember another city's storms? Anyhow, I have now discovered what caused that storm. It was caused by a friend of mine. She has the Evil Eye.

All she has to do is to make a certain type of remark, and things begin to happen. For example (and maybe I have told you this before), she once said, "Dave, nobody gets punctured any more." Before the day was out I had two punctures, and during the next week I had several more. Another time she said, "Dave, nobody has chimney fires any more." Almost immediately our chimney was belching out flames, to the delight of the neighbors. I was not exactly delighted myself, yet there was a grim satisfaction in having one more proof that we superstitious simpletons are often wise to shudder at an innocent remark.

SHE made this sort of remark all the time, and it nearly always worked, too. One night my brother Pip was driving her home, and she said, "Pip, you're such a good driver. You are the only one of the family who has never had an accident, and I don't think you ever will." He nearly drove up onto the sidewalk in his alarm at such a statement. But it wasn't till several minutes later, on his way home, that he ran into another car with a terrific crashing and crumpling, and a feeling of being bewitched. A feeling based on logic.

Well, she has just been telling me about Vancouver's storm last month. She was driving with a visitor, who said, "What do those queer clouds portend, in these parts?" My friend, the involuntary sorcerer, replied, "Oh, back in eastern Canada they would mean a little thunder storm. But here in Vancouver we never have thunderstorms any more." And she said to me, "And Dave, wasn't it a strange coincidence? I had hardly spoken when quite a bad thunderstorm began, and it got worse and worse, and lasted for hours. I think 40 transformers were hit by lightning, and basements were flooded everywhere."

I SHOULD just jolly well think so. I am only surprised that a thousand houses weren't destroyed by lightning, and the Hotel Vancouver flooded right up to the Panorama Roof. "Coincidence," indeed!

From Our Files

Sept. 1, 1894.—News received last night was that the Province exploration party had arrived at Alberni from the north end of the Island six days ago. They are now probably well on the way, walking to Victoria.

Sept. 1, 1911.—Dispatches from Bucharest say the Russians have inflicted a crushing defeat on the Austrians in Galicia. The enemy is said to have lost 20,000 men in trying to cross the Vistula.

Sept. 1, 1934.—There are approximately eight men working for wages in B.C. to every woman, a Labor Department report shows. In July this year there 51,084 men working, and 6,637 women.

CROSS-SECTION OPINION?

On behalf of the under-mentioned association I should be glad if you would grant me space to reply to the apparent challenge presented by the comments contained in the feature "What's Your Opinion" in Saturday's issue of the Times.

Of the five opinions given, three "didn't think" rodeos were cruel; one admitted that they could be cruel, but due to the thickness of their hides the horses couldn't feel the spurs; while one "honestly thought" that rodeos were definitely cruel. The fact remains, however, that these performances have been proved to be cruel by the highest court in British Columbia.

It seems hardly fair that in a controversy of this nature persons who have apparently given the question little consideration should have their statements published as representing a cross-section of public opinion. At the present time this association is circulating petitions against the rodeo and the rapidly growing lists of names would indicate that a substantial percentage of the population believe that these shows constitute unnecessary cruelty and should be prohibited by law.

CHILD AND DISCIPLINE

A letter in your Thursday's paper signed Q.C. contained the statement that there was less juvenile delinquency now than there used to be. Statistics are like weather reports and the cost of living index, often taken from one small section of the country and do not apply to the country as a whole. Today with the modern methods of transportation we must take in all parts of the world which are under democratic government to get a true picture. We do not know what it is like in the other parts of the world. On the next page of your paper were three headlines, "Mother Throws Baby in Lake," "Two Girls Kill the One Girl's Mother," and "Mother Beats Her Baby With a Hammer." Very significant of the present age.

Your very able editorial on the difference between here and England is to be commended. It is the parents' fault in many cases. If they take the modern way of not punishing children—I believe they call it self-expression—the children are bound to turn out badly.

I am thankful my father gave me plenty of strappings when I was young. I might have been a lot worse without them.

Another reason children grow up wild is because they do not have proper Christian training in the schools. If they do not get it at home or in the school what is to be expected?

Alderman Mulliner recently spoke of the necessary punishment of those who were doing damage in the cemetery. The head of an organization, who should know better, since most of his dealings are with young people, protested very strongly against Mr. Mulliner's suggestion. How many children have been ruined because of the lack of such punishment?

TWO OUTLOOKS

It is interesting to note the division of opinion reported to exist in the present meeting of the World Council of Churches at Evanston, Ill., as between the European delegates and the American.

The former are said to believe that radical improvement in world conditions must await the second advent of our Lord, when, as prophesied, He is to come in power and glory and set up a reign of righteousness.

The latter, in spite of the increasing tempo of international wrangling, still holds to the modern idea that man himself will so reorganize world affairs that eventually righteousness will prevail.

The last view does not seem to be the result of a realistic appraisal of world conditions and is certainly not biblical. Many prophecies were fulfilled when our Lord came into the world 1900 years ago. The fact that these were fulfilled is vantage for believing that the far greater number of prophecies concerning His second coming will also in their time come true.

Then there will be one on earth with the necessary power to carry out the work of reorganization, which it is evident our world needs.

CERTIFIED MUSIC TEACHERS

The announcement regarding the formation of the B.C. Guild of Music Teachers, which appeared recently in the B.C. press, has given me an opportunity to make a statement on behalf of the British Columbia Registered Music Teachers' Association.

Ever since its inception the BCMTA has worked to advance the standard of music teaching throughout the province by advocating certification as proof of knowledge and efficiency. It is not a new idea, other professions have adopted the same method to assure the public of a guarantee of ability and service.

Graded or classified certification would entitle all music teachers to registration status, and would be an objective for students preparing for professional music teaching.

Music is an educational subject and it will progress only as long as it improves with the times both in method and administration. That all teachers should be certified is a natural development in a progressive community. If in the final analysis our efforts are considered extreme, we will have the satisfaction of endeavoring to give the public a safeguard when seeking and paying for music teaching.

That a group of music teachers has publicly announced its intention to prevent such a progressive move is to be regretted.

C. E. FINDLATER,
President, BCMTA.

Foundation for the Dyke

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP, From Washington

SECRETARY of State John Foster Dulles is packing his bags for Manila, where he hopes to build a dyke of international guarantees to hold the Communist tide in South-east Asia. Publicly at least, the State Department is fairly hopeful that a workable South-east Asia Treaty Organization will emerge from the Manila conference. The club will be small in membership, since no Asians but the Filipinos and Siamese are willing to join. But with the British, the French, the Austrians and the New Zealanders all signing up, it will be enough to make Peking and Moscow think twice before starting another aggressive push to the southwards. That is the theory at any rate.

Joseph

DELICATE PROBLEMS

The practice, unfortunately, is going to be something else again. There are many delicate and dangerous problems that the Manila conference will have to deal with. But the most delicate, the most dangerous and the most urgent problem arises from the fact that the dyke to hold the Communist tide has got to be built while the tide is still running very strongly.

The fact is that the assumptions behind the Geneva agreement on Indo-China are already beginning to look pretty phony. The main assumption was the same one that Chamberlain made at Munich—that you could placate a determined aggressor by allowing him to take the first bite, and so dissuade him from taking the second and third.

As the Sudetenland was yielded to Hitler by Chamberlain, so northern Viet Nam was yielded to the Communists by Mendes-France and Anthony Eden, with the tacit consent of the Eisenhower administration. The Geneva agreement had hardly been initiated when Ho Chi Minh, took to the radio to promise all other Indo-Chinese that they would be "liberated" very soon.

CONSIDERABLE PROGRESS

Since then, Ho Chi Minh has made considerable progress towards making good on his promise. The immediate target of his efforts is Southern Viet Nam, the most vulnerable of the three regions of Indo-China that the Geneva agreement supposedly "denied" to the Communists.

The position in the south is worse than chaotic. The great city and port of the region, Saigon, still has a large French garrison and a ghostly French administration. The presence of the French mainly serves to influence the already violent Nationalist feelings of the Vietnamese population. The French writ does not run anywhere more than thirty kilometers from Saigon, and even in the immediate suburbs there are many centres of Communist power.

The parallel Vietnamese administration of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem, whom the French would like to replace as too Nationalist, also appears to be powerless to cope with its many problems. The Vietnamese army is still large but widely disaffected. The two big religious groups with private militias, the Bao Dai and Hao Hoa, have turned against the government.

The Vietnamese administration has no more authority than the French administration beyond the Saigon suburbs.

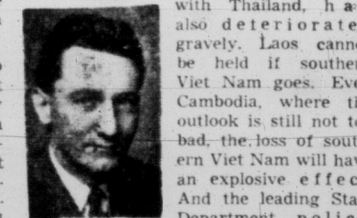

What is happening in the countryside, of course, is the real key to the whole picture. The mass of the people have been convinced by the Geneva surrender that the Communists are bound to win in the long run. And wherever they are beyond the immediate reach of the French, the people have therefore hastened to come to terms with the future, by going over to the Communist side.

If they do not go over voluntarily, moreover, the Communist guerrilla forces, which have come out of hiding, are there to make them see the light by force of arms. The promised withdrawal of Communist troops from the French side of the line has turned out to be a farce. Indeed, there are good reasons to believe that the troops in the south are now being reinforced by new Communist contingents released for this duty by the cease-fire in the north.

MIRACLES NEEDED

Maybe, by a series of miracles, the position in southern Viet Nam can somehow be got under control. On the face of the facts, however, southern Viet Nam seems likely to provide the next explosion in that Southeast Asian chain reaction which "the prophets of gloom and doom" used to be rebuked for predicting.

To make matters worse, the position in Laos, with its long common border with Thailand, has also deteriorated gravely. Laos cannot be held if southern Viet Nam goes. Even Cambodia, where the outlook is still not too bad, the loss of southern Viet Nam will have an explosive effect. And the leading State Department policy-makers frankly confess that Thailand will be in grave peril if Laos alone is lost.

Stewart

Such are the circumstances in which Secretary Dulles is going to Manila, to ask for a SEATO guaranty of Southern Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos, with Thailand as one of the guarantors.

SIGHT AND SOUND
The Times (London)

Mr. Leslie Green, owner of Holland Croft Nurseries, Bishop's Waltham, Hampshire, claims that explosions caused by jet aircraft breaking through the sound barrier have caused over 4500 of damage to his greenhouses and other buildings. He says that when he applied for compensation after an explosion on July 21, the Air Ministry wrote saying that he must identify the aircraft and prove that it caused the damage. On August 5, he added, an Air Ministry investigator visited him and told him that he ought to have taken the number of the aircraft.

"Great Light on Epilepsy"

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

I have gathered perhaps the world's largest library of books written by persons who have been ill an have written up their experiences. These fine people have done most to show us doctors how a person feels and suffers when he has lost his mind, or fallen in a fit, or lost his sight or his hearing or the use of his legs.

One of the latest of these fine books to come to my desk is called "A Ray of Darkness" (Roy, New York) and was written by Mrs. Marijag Evans, a British writer of ability. Every person who suffers from epilepsy and every parent of an epileptic child could gain great insight into the nature of the disease by reading this book.

Dr. Alvarez

One night when she was about 41, Mrs. Evans was staggered on finding herself lying on the floor of her cottage, wedged in where she had fallen between a fender and a little table. Gradually, as her brain cleared, she realized that she had had a fit. She tells so clearly of the troubling thought that came to her in the hours and days and months that followed. There were all the usual questions. Why had this come to her? She knew of no epilepsy or mental disease in her family. She went to see a consultant who, as is now the custom, told her that her disease was not hereditary, but due, probably, to a fall off her pony when she was a girl.

As so commonly happens, today, if the professor had only taken an adequate history he would have seen how wrong his diagnosis was. If he has since read Mrs. Evans' book, he must now know that she was an epileptic practically from birth, with many odd ways of thinking; many severe headaches, many horrible nightmares, many attacks of petit mal, with short lapses of consciousness, and a few mild convulsions during sleep.

At times Mrs. Evans knew that her thinking was wrong, and that she must hang on, desperately to her sanity. At times she would be mildly manic and then her thoughts would race abnormally. As she realized later, epileptics often have their own individual patterns of thought. "Some are egotists," they must be, because "they are likely at any moment to become something else."

She could not recall a time when she was without moments of "separation from her consciousness." Also, "moments when I was literally conscious and unconscious at the same time."

Very important is her statement that in her first 40 years she had never thought of complaining to a physician of her weird mental experiences; she just thought everyone must have them. Today she feels sure that they were the minor mental disturbances of epilepsy.

In her short spells of petit mal she could walk about, but she had no memory of what she had done. "I saw and heard and moved while it happened. I left myself on one side of a room and came to myself on the other."

"I went on with whatever I was doing, guided by the consciousness left over, rather than by the consciousness of the moment." What a remarkable statement that is!

Evidently from her story, Mrs. Evans must have had a tendency to alternate between her mild manias, and her mild depressions. In the depressions she would feel "harmony and peace."

The big point that impressed me as I read this book was that most of us humans have many minor nervous abnormalities which we never talk about, and which, hence, remain unknown even to our closest relatives and friends. These people may look on us as perfectly normal, when really we have many little mental quirks which we inherited from some mentally disturbed ancestor.

I have written this column to help explain to thousands of puzzled people how it can happen that they, who seem sane and were born of apparently sane parents and grandparents, can have an insane or a feeble-minded or an epileptic child. Sometimes, in such cases, when I get hold of the old family doctor he will say, "True: no one in that family ever had to be locked up; they all earned a living and were respected members of the community; but I, who have known them since childhood, know that many suffered all their days from a small dose of a family tendency to mental disease. I know how hard some of them had to fight to hang onto their sanity. Some were often so depressed they would gladly have ended their terrible mental suffering with suicide."

Just this week I was looking over my old records of some 30 members in four generations of a certain family. Only one was once, for six months, locked up as insane, but some 20 out of her 30 relatives suffered at times from spells of mild melancholia. Some stuttered and some wet the bed late. Today, if one of the great-grandchildren of the old couple whom I knew were to have a fit or to go insane, everyone would say that, except for the great aunt, no relative had ever had any mental disease. But they would be dead wrong because they would not know that two out of three had had some slight manifestation of the family curse.

MORE NON-STRATEGIC ITEMS AVAILABLE

Canada Widens Trade Gates To Soviet-Bloc Countries

By VICTOR MACKIE

Times Ottawa Correspondent
OTTAWA—Canada has widened its list of non-strategic goods which can be shipped to Russia and its European satellites.

The announcement, made on Tuesday, has been under study here for several months. It is expected to result in increased trade with the U.S.S.R.

Trade officials said it was the biggest cut in export controls since the Korean war, but they doubted that it would lead to any large expansion of Canadian trade with the Soviet.

The revisions, approved by the cabinet following cuts by other Western powers, go into effect today.

Canadian exporters no longer will require government approval on shipments of such goods as synthetic rubber—except the butyl type which is still considered strategic—phenol used in the plastics industry, dynamite, polyethylene, sulphuric acid, carbon black used in the production of auto tires and a group of other chemicals.

Also removed from export controls are low-power diesel engines, freight cars, some electric motors and transformers, outboard motors, electric furnaces, various industrial equipment such as electrolytic tinning units.

Sales to Russia this year have been mounting steadily. The upward swing developed soon after the arrival in Ottawa last February of Ambassador Dmitri Chuvahin and his announcement that the U.S.S.R. government was interested in increasing two-way trade with Canada.

Non-strategic exports to Russia this year have soared to $4,000,000 during the last five months. This compares with a total of only $478 in exports to Russia in 1953. That small export figure was made up mainly of gifts. Imports during 1953 by Canada from Russia, consisting mainly of raw furs, totaled $625,000.

With the relaxation of strategic shipments controls sales of Canadian goods to the Soviet will probably increase considerably, perhaps reaching $15,000,000 by the year end.

McCarthy, Stevens Both Rapped In Findings of Army Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans on the McCarthy army hearings committee held Tuesday night that Sen. Joseph McCarthy had not used improper influence on the army, but said he should have enforced "more vigorous discipline over his staff."

Democrats on the committee contended the evidence established that both the senator and Roy M. Cohn were guilty of "inexcusable actions."

There were no demands for the firing of anyone. Cohn, the aggressive and controversial chief counsel for the McCarthy investigations subcommittee, resigned soon after the hearings ended.

There were criticisms from both party groups, for army secretary Robert Stevens and army counsel John G. Adams. The three Democrats said Stevens didn't show necessary firmness, strength and courage in his dealings with McCarthy and his aides. The four Republicans said the evidence "reasonably inspires the belief" that Stevens tried to block a McCarthy search for alleged Communists at Fort Monmouth, N.J.

The Democrats said Cohn "knowingly and persistently" sought army favors for his old friend, Pte. G. David Schine, and that McCarthy "permitted same to occur . . . and in the course of these hearings, wholly supported and undertook to defend these improper actions of Mr. Cohn."

The four Republicans said Cohn was "unduly aggressive and persistent" but held the charge of improper influence against McCarthy personally "was not established."

Tuesday night's reports were the climax of the stormy 36 days of public and televised testimony taken April 22 to June 17. The big questions were whether McCarthy and Cohn pressured the army in behalf of Schine, and whether Stevens and others tried to blackmail McCarthy into stopping the Fort Monmouth probe.

The Republican report said Stevens followed "a course of placation, appeasement and vacillation" toward McCarthy and Cohn. It exonerated both Stevens and Adams of being "soft toward Communism."

It said Adams resorted to "deliberate and indefensible conduct" to block the questioning of Pentagon loyalty board members by the McCarthy investigating subcommittee.

Republicans signing the majority report were chairman Karl Mundt of South Dakota, Everett Dirksen of Illinois, John Potter of Michigan and Henry Dworshak of Idaho. Potter and Dirksen also filed individual statements.

Potter, in his separate statement and the three Democrats—John McClellan of Arkansas, Stuart Symington of Missouri and Henry Jackson of Washington—sharply criticized McCarthy for his use in the public hearings of material from a secret document and for his invitation to government workers to give him more information of that kind. Potter also put the chief blame for the whole controversy on Cohn.

The Democrats said McCarthy merits "serious criticism" and "may have violated the law" in accepting and using a summary of a Federal Bureau of Investigation report on the search for espionage at Monmouth.

Dirksen, in his separate statement, expressed disbelief in the army side's charges of improper pressure by McCarthy and Cohn.

The Illinois senator—agreeing with McCarthy and Cohn—said he firmly believed the army filed its "pressure" charges in order to halt the questioning of loyalty board members in the Fort Monmouth probe. The McCarthy camp called this an effort to blackmail them out of investigating the Monmouth radar laboratories.

McCarthy told reporters he had no comment on any of these reports.

Both Democrats and Republicans noted the justice department now has the job of deciding whether the many contradictions in the testimony during the hearings warrant the bringing of perjury charges.

(Miss Kilgallen appears each Sunday night on "What's My Line?"—KINTV-TV, Tacoma, at 7:30 p.m.)

NEW YORK—FOR NEW YORKERS WHO cannot abide corn except on the cob, the most frightening event of the theatrical season will occur on Sept. 13 when a divertissement called "Hayride"—described as the first hillbilly show ever to open on Broadway—arrives from Richmond, Va., and settles into the 48th Street Theatre.

The details are spine chilling. To begin with, the proceedings are alleged by the management to be completely ad lib, with no libretto and no written musical score because most of the cast play their instruments by ear and couldn't read the music sheets if there were any.

On opening night the playbill will strive to assist the uneducated by providing a glossary of hillbilly terms (example: a Chili Dipper is a ukulele and a mandolin is a Tater Bug) and as if that were not enough to curl your toes, the whole proceeding will be m.c'd by a lady known as Sunshine Sue.

It has not been announced, but presumably there will be a dramatic concession in the lobby.

RECENT QUOTES THAT HAVE BRIGHTENED my day . . . Pier Angeli: "The man I'm looking for must like the outdoors and love my animals, which include three dogs and three parakeets" . . . Artie Shaw's comment on the unlikelihood of his writing a book: "But if I do, I'll write under another name, because I don't feel it would be honest, to use my own" . . . Starlet Priscilla Beaulieu: "At night I go wild. I do crazy dances, invent new steps. I dance to mambo records, anything that makes me feel free. My body scares me. Then I see Albee Guiness movies!" . . . And the adorable truism attributed to Samuel Goldwyn: "Planes are the best way to fly."

Cleveland, Detroit and New York are keeping close watch on developments in Chicago's gangland where two top-ranking hoodlums and a couple of minor ones were erased. Police feel that if there is a major gang war going on in the Windy City it might well have repercussions in other cities.

Meanwhile the most informed sources in Chicago say the killing of two Capone old-timers probably can be attributed to a new mob of young gangsters who have been trying to jump from the minor hoodlum league into the big time, and asked several of the old pros to join them to give their outfit prestige.

The two who were bumped off, "Cherry Nose" Gioe and Frank Martiote, are believed to have made the mistake of telling the young punks they weren't interested in joining.

Saanich 4-H Club Captures PNE Awards

Another Vancouver Island group has taken top honors at the Pacific National Exhibition. The Saanich 4-H Holstein Calf Club won the inter-club competition Tuesday at the PNE, receiving the Frases Farm Holstein Trophy.

Three first-prize junior calves exhibited by Margaret Taylor, Clara Taylor, and Ward Bishop, and a second-prize winner exhibited by Margaret Callender, combined to give the club top marks.

The championship for junior calves went to Margaret Taylor and the reserve championship to Clara Taylor. Margaret also won the reserve grand championship in both the senior and junior sections.

The three first-prize winners came from the farm of William Taylor, Saanichton, and the second-prize calf belonged to Ralph Bendel and Son, Victoria. Showmanship awards went to Joseph and Clara Taylor and Miss Callender.

Indecent Assault Brings Sentence Of Six Months

Twenty-three-year-old John William McKellar pleaded guilty to indecent assault of a Quadra Street rooming house landlady in city police court Tuesday and was sentenced to six months in jail.

The complainant is in her fifties. McKellar, no fixed address, had earlier pleaded not guilty but changed his plea before Magistrate H. C. Hall Tuesday.

The landlady told the court she had gone to McKellar's room to see about rent owing her. He was on the bed and complained of a sore stomach, she said. When she approached, he allegedly threw her on the bed and attempted indecencies.

McKellar admitted in court to previous convictions contributing to juvenile delinquency, a two-year term for a Drug Act conviction and to assaulting a police officer.

Little Girl, 2, Suffers Her 59th Bone Fracture

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Two-year-old Susan Kenworthy smiled over the cast that enclosed her 59th bone fracture today.

Susan, who lives in Roebling, N.J., suffers a rare disease that leaves her bones as brittle as glass. She fell from a bicycle Monday night and fractured her left leg, the 59th broken bone she has suffered since she was three months old.

When the ambulance which was taking her to hospital collided with a car Tuesday, both drivers and her mother were injured, but Susan, for the first time in her life, was unhurt in an accident.

Dartmouth across the harbor from Halifax was first settled in 1751.

New $12 Million PO Planned for Winnipeg
OTTAWA (UP)—Tenders will be called this fall for a $12,000,000 post office building in Winnipeg featuring a roof that helicopters can use and drive-in post boxes.

It had been planned to call tenders July 1 but architects' plans were not ready in time.

VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Victoria Shamrocks command centre stage once more and tonight they get it.

It's the third game of the Intercity Lacrosse League finals, and, without attempting to put the kiss of death on the Irish, let's face it:

It could be the final lacrosse game here this season. Two more victories will give the Irish the Intercity League playoff championship and what everyone has been awaiting—another crack at the Mann Cup which adorns the mantelpiece at Miller Bowl in Peterborough at present.

And it is the end locally for this season, the Irish deserve a resounding send-off. They've come a long way in five years and win or lose they've earned their spurs.

But, on the other side of the continent, there are other spurs being sharpened for whatever the west holds.

The mighty Trailermen of Peterborough are once more regarded as the kingpins who will need unseating.

As our informant said so glibly: "Unless there is a mighty upset in the east, Bob Thorpe's Trailermen will be in the cup finals again this year."

And even at this relatively early stage, while the Petes themselves are still battling for survival in their own backyard, it might be an idea to see what Thorpe's got.

Of course, and we use the term in deference to one of the greatest of lacrosse goalies, there's Moon Wooten. It's Wooten who has been keeping the Trailermen at the top of the ladder again this season, although reports are that the Petes have lost nothing from last year's unit.

Wooten again led OLA goalies this season and was mainly responsible for several Trailermen triumphs, as he was, Victorians will recall, in last year's cup series here.

The Old and the New

Then there's the power that we all have come to respect. Up front they've got what is dubbed in the east "the old line" and "the kids." The old sweats are Curly Mason, he the master of the draw, Russ Slater, who will be remembered for his great penalty-killing chores; and Don Ashbee, with Thorpe filling in when the need arises.

The Petes lost Ross Powless and Roger Smith this season, but they came up with something better, it is said, in Denny Peterson. A rangy youth, who first jumped into senior company with Mimico from the juvenile ranks, without stopping anywhere en route, Peterson was the prize package of the year and is regarded as potentially one of the finest forwards in the east.

Peterson's playmates are Bob Allan and Bob Curtis. Curtis was up with the scoring leaders, as was Peterson, and right now this line is called the finest in the OLA.

As a comparison (and Nip O'Hearn should love this if he happens to meet his old mates sometime in the future) Peterson is described thusly:

"Peterson fills the gap left by O'Hearn. He's a little stronger defensively, more style than Nip, and is definitely a much higher scorer." (We'll leave Nip to answer that one.)

No Time Like the Present

There's really not much to say about the Peterborough defense that hasn't already been said (or seen).

Harry Wipper is still winding up on those floor-length dashes; Lou Nickle is described as having "perked up" and being more rugged than ever, while Gerry Fitzgerald has had so many superlatives attached to his name in the past that it is little use attempting to enlarge on them. Suffice to add that anyone who has seen Fitzgerald play will unequivocally claim that he has few, if any, peers.

That then is the line-up of what is regarded as a "sure thing" in the east.

But somehow we can't help feeling at this moment that Victoria has a pretty "good thing" in the Rocks.

If Victorians think so, too, tonight would be an awfully nice and opportune occasion to prove it. There may not be another this year.

BOXLA GOALIE SCORES

Hayton Tried To Help Did, But to No Avail

It's not that Al Hayton is impatient. Or is it?

At any rate, Hayton, goalie for Fernwood of the Pee-wee Lacrosse League, got so tired waiting for his teammates to score in an overtime period Tuesday that he took the ball, deserted his nets, ran the whole length of the floor and scored a goal with his bulky goalie stick.

However, the goal was too little, too late, as far as Fernwood was concerned, as Saanich scored twice in the extra quarter to take a 10-9 victory over Fernwood in the third game of a best-of-five series for the city Pee-wee championship.

The teams were tied, 8-8, at the end of regulation time but Murray Reid and Bill Parr scored for Saanich in the overtime period to offset Hayton's unusual goal. The victory gave Saanich a 2-1 lead in the series.

Dave Collett of Saanich and Den Young of Fernwood were the best scoring guns, notching five goals each.

Fernwood and Saanich of the Bantam League will invade Memorial Arena tonight to play a preliminary to the Victoria Exhibition Soccer.

Exhibition Soccer

The Esquimalt senior soccer team of the Victoria and District Football Association will play an exhibition game with the newly-formed Dutch team Thursday night at 7, at Bullen Park.

All Esquimalt players and new candidates are asked to turn out. There will be no Esquimalt practice Wednesday night.

WINNIPEG 'PICK-UPS' LEAD LACROSSE SERIES

WINNIPEG (CP)—A gang of pick-ups, banded together under the name Manitoba All-Stars, are one game away from a berth in the Minto Cup finals for the Canadian junior lacrosse championships.

The All-Stars came from behind a two-goal deficit going into the last quarter to edge a well-drilled Long Branch, Ont., Monarchs squad 10-9 Tuesday night in the first game of their best-of-three semifinal series for the right to play British Columbia's representative in the final at Vancouver. Second game of the semifinals will be played here Thursday night.

Unable to get enough players to form a junior league, lacrosse players in Greater Winnipeg, both seniors and juniors, formed the Manitoba senior loop.

City Champs Seek More Laurels

Currently making a strong bid to capture the Vancouver Island senior A men's softball championship are Cec Fletchers of Victoria, who Tuesday night here took a 2-1 lead in games in their best-of-five Island series against Duncan Mayo Lumber League and city titlists, Fletchers can win the series tonight at Duncan and earn a spot in the provincial double-loss elimination championships here this week-end.

Rowing Regatta Set Here

Elk Lake's usually placid waters will be slashed by the wakes of slender rowing shells Saturday and Sunday as one of the biggest regattas held here in years takes over.

The North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen regatta, sponsored this year by the James Bay Athletic Association Rowing Club, will be held at the lake Saturday and Sunday. It will be the first time since 1939 that the big rowing event has come to Victoria.

Competing with the host club for trophies will be well-drilled crews from Vancouver, Penikese, Kelowna, Portland and Nelson.

Races in every boat size from eights down to singles will be held both days, starting at 1. No admission will be charged, but a silver collection will be taken.

Heading the JBAA team will be the powerful eight-oar crew that took part, unsuccessfully, in this year's Empire Games trials in Ontario. Competition will be held for the following events: 140-pound junior and senior singles, 140-pound junior and senior doubles, 140-pound junior and senior fours, senior eights and novice fours.

JBAA will have one entry in the senior eights, one in each of the novice fours, singles and doubles and two senior four-man crews.

Inter-City Rugby Planned

VANCOUVER (CP)—Victoria, seeking to revive interest in English rugby, will enter two teams in the Miller Cup competition this season.

Applications of James Bay A.A. and Oak Bay Wanderers were accepted Monday night at a meeting of the Vancouver Rugby Union Board of Control. Acceptance was based on a monthly trial basis, starting Oct. 2.

Road games will be played each Saturday, with one Victoria team visiting Vancouver while a Vancouver club travels to the Island city for a game against the other Victoria squad.

The Miller Cup series, starting its schedule Sept. 25, will comprise North Shore All-Blacks, South Burnaby, Varsity Rowing Club, Vindex Club, Meridians, Ex-Britannia, Kits and Blue Bombers, as well as the two Victoria teams.

VIRUS INFECTION

Gavilan III, Title Fight Called Off

By MURRAY ROSE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A virus infection sent welterweight champion Kid Gavilan to bed and once again put off his apparently jinxed title fight with Johnny Saxton—this time until October.

The 28-year-old Cuban was stricken so suddenly Tuesday that neither promoter Herman Taylor nor the co-promoting International Boxing Club could come up with a substitute fight for tonight's weekly Wednesday coast-to-coast boxing telecast. It was the first time that a live TV of some sort could not be staged as scheduled.

And Taylor said it was the first time in his 45 years in boxing that he could remember that a title fight ever was called off by illness on the eve of the contest. It was a first for Gavilan, too. He said he never had a fight postponed before in his eight years in the U.S.—a record he had been very proud of.

GOT SOME SPARE TIME? KIDS NEED COACHING

President George Kaiser of the Little Soccer League Coaches' Association has called a meeting for Thursday night at 8, at the Pacific Club.

Anyone interested in training the youngsters, from six to 12 years of age, is urgently requested to attend. Plans for fall activities of the Little Soccer League will be discussed.

Island Hockey League To Play Here Mondays

The four-team Vancouver Island Amateur Hockey League will play at Memorial Arena on Monday nights through the coming season, president Doug Fletcher announced today.

Fletcher said that Navy, Nanaimo, Merchants and Victoria V's had re-entered the league this season and that opening night at Memorial Arena would probably be Oct. 18, although no positive date has yet been set.

Arrangements are now under way to obtain Nanaimo Civic Arena for games on Saturday nights, home nights for Nanaimo Clippers last season.

It was reported from Vancouver Tuesday that Nanaimo would become a member of a proposed, four-team Pacific coast senior amateur hockey league along with Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma.

Stukus sprang a bit of a surprise when he announced that Vancouver homebrews Pete Thodos, speedy halfback, and defensive half, Brian Mulhern, are both up for sale. As they are both Canadians, it is expected Stukus will be able to make a deal for the players quite readily.

'Peg Trainer Suspended

CALGARY (AP)—Trainer Glen Magnusson of Winnipeg was suspended Tuesday for 60 days after a saliva test of Silver Spat, two-year-old colt which won Saturday, proved positive for caffeine.

Stewards also announced that jockeys Ken Coppernoll and Gerry Levine have been suspended for three days for riding infractions Monday. The suspensions are effective today.

Silver Spat, ridden by Coppernoll, won Saturday's sixth race by two lengths. The favorite, it paid $3.20 to win. The colt is owned by A. Adams of Winnipeg.

The stewards redistributed the $1,200 purse with first money going to Irish Yates, which finished second.

Softball Series Tied

Lands Department forced the best-of-five Provincial Government Employees' Softball Association final to the limit by taking a 4-3 decision from Remnants Tuesday night.

Fifth and deciding game of the series will be held at Central Park Friday night at 6:30.

Fosters Top Series; Tillicums in B.C. Meet

Joe Fosters captured the city senior B men's softball knock-out series title Tuesday night at Heywood Avenue Park by shading league, city and Island champion Tillicums, 3-2, in the third and deciding game of a best-of-three series.

Deadlocked going into the last of the ninth inning, Fosters rapped out three straight singles to load the bases and the winning run scored on catcher Bill Peterson's ground smash to second base.

Fosters scored once in the first inning as Tillicums committed two errors and added another run in the third inning on Ben Rice's triple. Tillicums counted once in each the second and ninth innings.

Jack Gerard limited the heavy-hitting Tillicums to eight hits in picking up the mound victory.

Ray Brookbank and Bill Stinson paced the winners' attack with two singles each, while Alf Aspinall connected for three singles for Tillicums.

As Vancouver Island champions, Tillicums are scheduled to see their next action this week-end when they compete in the B.C. championship double-loss elimination tournament at Aldergrove.

TIMES' ATHLETE OF YEAR

Whitey Gets Dues Tonight

One of the most crowded pieces of furniture in Victoria, Whitey Severson's mantelpiece, will be even more crowded after tonight.

Because, when Victoria Shamrocks take on PNE Indians in the third game of the Intercity Lacrosse League finals, Severson will be presented with still another trophy, making him the most honored member of the Shamrock team.

Tonight, Severson will receive the Times Trophy for being selected as the Amateur Athlete of the Year in a public poll sponsored by the Victoria Daily Times.

The huge trophy, designed by Birks Jewelers, will be presented tonight during a half-time ceremony. Severson is the first winner of the new award.

In his four years with the Shamrocks, Severson has won just about every honor open to a player. Last year he won the George Blackstock Memorial Award and the Birks Award, both chosen by local lacrosse fans. In addition, he won the Intercity Lacrosse League's most coveted award, the Maitland Trophy, presented every year by a board of trustees to the player deemed most valuable to his team during the season.

Severson was selected for the Times Trophy on the basis of a fan poll that extended for a year. Ballots were printed in the Times once a week and Severson won the contest in a close battle with Shamrocks' Arnie Ferguson that was not decided until the final count.

Meanwhile, Shamrocks will be out to make it three straight over Jake Proctor's PNE Indians in the third game of the best-of-seven western final.

Shamrocks won the series opener in Victoria, 10-6, Friday night and went two games up Monday by taking a close 8-7 victory from Indians in Vancouver.

Indians are in a tough position and they will be even more uncomfortable if they lose tonight. Should Shamrocks win tonight, they can end the series in straight games Friday night in Vancouver.

Fortunate enough to avoid the injury hex that usually hits them around playoff time, Shamrocks will go with the same line-up that won the first two games.

However, Indians will again be without forward Marino Cervi, who played Monday for the first time in the series. Hobbled by a weak knee, it appears the career of the colorful, chunky forward may be at an end. Cervi said after Monday's game that the knee will not hold up under game conditions.

B.E.G. FLASHBACK . . . AUSSIE STILL BOILS

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Australia's cycling team manager Bill Young, who led a "protest walk-off" by his team during the British Empire Games in Vancouver, said Tuesday night: "I make no apology for anything I did in Vancouver, nor do my riders."

Speaking at welcome-home ceremony, Young said: "There has been a lot of misguided criticism of the walk-off incident from people with an axe to grind."

"I think we would have been letting the Australians' reputation for being men slip back if we had tolerated what happened. Some cycling officials there had no idea about running a carnival."

The incident arose when an Australian rider was disqualified. Young's decision to withdraw the cyclists from the rest of the games was overruled by the Australian Empire team's general manager.

20 PLAYERS ATTEND WORKOUT

City Soccer Team Draws Good Turnout

Officials of the Victoria City Club of the Coast Soccer League are looking forward to a banner first year.

Not that the local footers will be league beaters, but they expect to present a strong line-up which will at least hold its own when the league schedule commences.

Opening game here for the city team which has taken over from Victoria United is scheduled at Royal Athletic Park, Sept. 18, against St. Andrews.

Some 20 prospective team members have been turning out for practice regularly the last 10 days, while others have signified their intentions of showing at future practices before the league commences.

The club will hold workouts Thursday and Tuesday nights at Royal Athletic Park regardless of weather conditions. Practices start at 7.

Seven of last year's Victoria United Club have been showing, along with several boosters last year in the Victoria and District Football League.

Former United players who have turned out are Cedric Robb, George Wright, Bill McMillan, Bill Hope, Harry Caruthers, Tim Walker and goalie Pete Winters.

Winters came up from the junior ranks near the end of last season to fill in the post left vacant when former regular goalie Bill McAllister joined the air force.

Another coast league competitor, John Pickburn, last season with New Westminster Royals, has been working out with the city club.

Ernie Eastlake from Wood Motors of the city league and Dave Wakelyn of Esquimalt are two of the more promising newcomers hoping for a spot on the line-up.

Bob (Click) Clark, Bill Bamford, Bert Ingram and Ian Lloyd, all last year with Civil Service, have been attending, as have Alec Ross and Barry Jenner formerly of Tillamook Junior club.

Don Glass, Dick McLaren and Keith Todd of the Army, Navy and Air Force Vets club of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association are also working out with the club.

In addition, a recent arrival from Bermuda, David Mello, is seeking a berth.

With the afore-mentioned boosters to choose from, and the possibility that additional former United-players will put in appearances, city officials anticipate little difficulty in welding a contending club.

Queen's Horse To Run In International Race

BALTIMORE (AP) — Queen Elizabeth consented Tuesday to send the first horse from England to the United States for Laurel's International race Nov. 3.

Her acceptance of Landau's invitation for the third running of the International was signed and forwarded by Capt. Charles Moore, the manager of the Queen's racing interests.

Landau, a three-year-old black colt, is the first horse invited to compete in the 1½-mile race at Laurel race course, approximately half way between Baltimore and Washington, D.C.

Wilwyn, an English horse, won the inaugural International and Worden II, a French contender, was first last year.

Sir Roger Makins, British ambassador to the United States, told Laurel officials that Queen Mother Elizabeth plans to be here at the time of the race.

Yanks Need Help Now; Indians Out of Reach

By Associated Press

The New York Yankees have lost their last chance to stop the Cleveland pennant dash single-handed.

Unless somebody else is willing to help, the five-year New York monopoly in the American League is doomed to end this month.

TIME OUT!

Good heavens! There goes my new glass rod!

Fricano Fined for Errant Tosses

CHICAGO (AP) — Pitcher Marion Fricano of Philadelphia Athletics, involved in two recent "dusting" incidents, Monday was fined $150 by the American League for an altercation Sunday with Detroit pitcher Steve Gromek.

Last Friday night Cass Michaels of Chicago White Sox suffered a skull fracture when struck by a ball pitched by Fricano.

Gromek charged the Philadelphia pitcher in the ninth inning after being hit in the kidney by one of Fricano's pitches.

In a telegram sent to manager Eddie Joost of the Athletics, president Will Harridge of the American League said: "Although the umpires do not charge Fricano with deliberately throwing the so-called beanball, his reports definitely charge him with throwing at the batters."

Canadians Lose to Yorkshire

SCARBOROUGH, England (CP) — Yorkshire's powerful XI defeated Canada's touring cricketers by 249 runs Monday as the visiting bowlers failed to break the county batters on their second try.

Yorkshire lost all its first-innings wickets Saturday for 265 runs, a low score for the leaders of Britain's county cricket table. But after Canada was dismissed for a first-innings total of 154, Yorkshire ran up 245 for the loss of four wickets before declaring their second innings closed.

Canada's second-innings 107 left them far short of their opponents.

Canada Cup Golf May 'Hit the Road'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Stan Leonard of the United States, Leonard, however, fired a sensational 13-under-par 275 to win medalist honors over a field of top world professionals.

Leonard, who led the two-man Canadian team in the recent cup matches at Laval-sur-le-Lac, Que., said Tuesday three countries have already bid for the 1955 tournament. He identified them as Australia, England and a South American country.

Leonard said it would be a "tremendous thing" if the Canada Cup event was rotated among various countries.

The Canada Cup was originated two years ago by Montreal industrialist John Hopkins and the International Golf Association.

In this year's matches the Canadian team finished fourth behind Australia, Argentina and gives you up to 15% unexpected power from your engine

Now blended into both Shell Gasolines, TCP* releases power locked in by lead and carbon deposits. It's the greatest gasoline development in 31 years.

You'll feel your engine's had a tune-up before you've finished your second tankful.

YES, your engine may be 15% more powerful than you think!

And the reason is this:

Lead and carbon deposits are constantly building up in your engine. They "lock-in" power that you should be getting.

These deposits get red hot and set off the fuel charge ahead of time... before the piston reaches its proper firing position. Power works against you—not for you. This condition is called pre-ignition, and automotive engineers consider it the biggest cause of power loss.

You also lose power when these deposits make your spark plugs misfire. Building-up on spark plug insulators, they short-circuit the spark.

Both of these power robbers—pre-ignition and short-circuited spark plugs—are at their worst when you need power most—when climbing a hill or accelerating.

Now, however, you can change all this. TCP, a Shell-discovered additive, blended into both Shell Gasolines releases the "captive power" in your engine.

First, it "fireproofs" the deposits in your combustion chambers—to stop pre-ignition. Second, by making the deposits non-conductive, TCP additive stops the short-circuiting of your spark plugs.

Shell with TCP acts quickly, too. In fact, before you've finished your second tankful, you'll feel your engine's had a tune-up. But, remember, because these deposits accumulate constantly, continued use of Shell gasolines with TCP additive is essential to retain full benefits. It is the greatest gasoline development since the discovery of tetraethyl lead.

Shell and Shell Premium gasolines with TCP are available only at your Shell Dealer's.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Perennials, Bulbs Add Beauty to Fall

By HILDA BEASTALL

To keep color in the garden during September and October, it is not enough to be satisfied with the left-overs from summer. There are many perennials and bulbs which give their full quota of beauty in this period.

At this season of garden reconstruction, we would do well to consider some of the following:

Artemisia lactiflora (white mugwort), perennial with creamy white flowers on tall stems to six feet. Ceratostigma plumbaginoides (leadwort), perennial with blue flowers usually about a foot high. Korean varieties of chrysanthemums, which endure light frosts without damage. Growing 12 to 15 inches tall, they bear quantities of single blooms in shades of buff, pink and white.

Coleheum, the meadow saffron, belonging to the lily family, and also called autumn crocus, is a large bulb which sends up numbers of pinkish mauve blooms before the leaves appear. The fall flowering species of true crocus will give many shades of blue, lilac, purple and white. Schizostylis coccinea.

Death of 2 Youths Ruled Accidental

VANCOUVER (CP)—A verdict of accidental death was returned Tuesday by a coroner's jury investigating the deaths of two Vancouver youths in a spectacular traffic collision early last Saturday.

Donald Robson, 21, and Donald Marshall, 20, were killed while another occupant in their car suffered shock. Driver of the second car, Leslie Stapleton, 26, is still in hospital with serious injuries.

The jury recommended a four-way stop sign be installed and lighting improved at the intersection where the accident occurred.

Earlier, evidence showed that both Robson and Stapleton had been drinking at separate wedding receptions before the crash.

N. Saanich Rents 2 Church Halls As Schoolrooms

BRENTWOOD—Rental of two church halls at Deep Cove and Prospect Lake, and classroom conversion at Royal Oak, will take care of the increased school registration in those districts, it was stated today by A. G. Blair of school district No. 63.

It had been feared that the old elementary schools at Brentwood and Royal Oak would have to be requisitioned, but the board finds that this possibility will not be necessary.

The situation at Royal Oak will be eased by the recent conversion of the activity room at the new Royal Oak elementary school into two extra classrooms.

Nanaimo Needs Members for Public Boards

Due for Growth, Says Alderman

NANAIMO—A need for more public-spirited men in positions of authority here was expressed Tuesday by Ald. Miss Elsie Hall in an address before Nanaimo Kiwanis Club.

"I am sure Nanaimo is going to grow into a big, important centre," she said, "but we need public-spirited men to serve on boards that will promote the growth of the city."

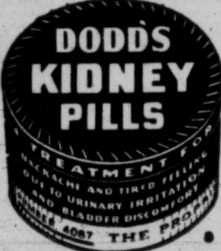

The city council, with great difficulty, found five men to serve on the Greater Nanaimo Water Board, she said. Other public boards that will be required eventually will be a sewer board, garbage disposal board, and a body to handle development of Bowen Park. She said a program of laying permanent paved roads, sidewalks, and curbs will be undertaken when old water mains have been renewed, and sewer and water connections have been made to all homes.

Reeve Denies Offers Made To Firemen

Recommendations Set for Council

SAANICHTON—Reeve Sydney Pickles of Central Saanich today denied reports that certain offers and proposals had been made to the municipality's volunteer fire department.

Firemen met with the municipal council's fire committee Tuesday night to discuss complaints by firemen of equipment, and a shift in the duties of Fire-Chief Victor Heal.

The reeve said: "Last evening I was present as reeve and ex-officio member of a meeting of our municipal fire committee when it met the officers of our volunteer fire department. At that meeting it was agreed, at the request of the chairman, Mr. Ray Lamont, that no publicity was to be given to the discussions until the committee presented its recommendations at our next council meeting."

"This meeting Tuesday night was of purely a confidential nature, and no offers or proposals were made by the municipal fire committee for further consideration by the firemen. The fire chief stated clearly that the firemen have no proposal to modify their original demands. Also, no fire committee meeting has been planned for next week as far as I am aware, as has been published."

COMPLETE DENIAL
"At one stage of this discussion meeting, a very important statement was made by a member of the firemen's group, completely denying that he had made a certain statement which had been published in the press. The statement referred to placed our municipal council in a most invidious position in the public mind. But when this man was asked to publish an immediate retraction of the alleged statement, in fairness to the council, he refused to make such retraction, saying he would do it at a later date."

"When a council is placed in a wrong light, I consider that such retraction should be made without any delay. "It is my duty as reeve to make this correct statement concerning the meeting."

'ESKIMO' SETTLES DOWN

Famed Musher Abandons Arctic For Warm Weather Trading Post

By R. T. FREEMAN

BRENTWOOD—Leland "Eskimo" Abbott was reared in the north and glories in the wide open spaces and, paradoxically, he now holds down a job keeping people behind bars against their will.

He once made New York sit up and take notice after "mushing" a team of huskies 15 years ago on an adventurous journey from Canada's Arctic rim.

Right now he spends part of his busy life here as a guard on night duty at the Wilkinson Road Mental Home.

In his spare time after he has had necessary sleep, 45-year-old Eskimo Abbott presides over his "trading post" of 10 acres in Central Saanich off Veyness Road.

The property is cluttered up with an amazing accumulation of second-hand furniture, cars which may go, and a great variety of birds and animals, all being offered to the highest bidder.

INFORMAL DISPLAY
The entire set-up gives the uninitiated an impression of a completely disorganized sale of goods, or the scene of a bailiff's eviction. Some of the best stuff is properly housed in sheds but the bulk of the conglomeration is scattered all over the lot.

Dogs making their home on the property range from tiny pekinese to giant police hounds.

There are huskies in sight, though, which is all the more remarkable when it is understood that Eskimo has spent much of his lifetime breeding this type of Arctic "work horse."

It was through his famous team of huskies that Eskimo Abbott acquired considerable notoriety in the fall of 1938. He hit the front pages all over the continent by his sensational and successful attempt to "mush" from Repulse Bay on Hudson Bay to New York.

SIX-MONTH TRIP
It took his cavalcade six months to reach the Great White Way via The Pas, Winnipeg, and Chicago.

Eskimo recalls that he and his dog team did a good job of snarling up traffic while negotiating Chicago's famed Loop, to the voluble annoyance and frustration of the police.

ANCIENT VEGETABLE
Cultivated in ancient times by the Medes and Persians, spinach was introduced to Europe in the 15th century.

The loaded sled, which by this time had been rigged on rubber due to the absence of snow, was finally toted into New York in April, 1939, to become one of the features of the Arctic Village at the World's Exposition.

After a spell of service overseas with the air force, Eskimo came out to Vancouver Island to join his brother here.

His most prized memento a massive album crammed with newspaper clippings and photographs of his adventurous pilgrimage.

Happy with his wife, Ruth, and their baby daughter, in the rambling old house on the Veyness estate, Eskimo declares he is content to forget his old ambition to travel.

"I had to settle down sometime," he said, "and this is a pretty good layout."

Nanaimo Game Club to Lose 20 Acres Leased From Crown

NANAIMO—An emergency meeting was called Tuesday night by Nanaimo Fish and Game Association when it was advised by Crown Assets Disposal Corporation that land leased by the association is to be sold.

The game association leases 18.6 acres of property to the west of Nanaimo Senior High School on Jingle Pot Road. Lease expires June, 1955.

Advice from J. D. Hardinge, chief of Crown Assets Disposal Corporation office in Vancouver, said that the game association was being given an opportunity to purchase "before taking other action in offering this land for public tender."

Sportsmen decided they were financially unable to purchase the property, totaling 27 acres, and appointed a committee headed by John Kemp to investigate other properties for lease or purchase.

Behan Park was suggested as a possible site for the rifle range and club house.

ACCESS AGREED
Access to hunting grounds in Northwest Bay area has been agreed upon by MacMillan and Bloedel and the Nanaimo association.

Road blocks into the logging area will be manned by members of the game club for first two weeks of the hunting season, starting next Saturday. Patrols and gatekeepers will have the power to issue permits to members of the Nanaimo club only.

Television Keeping Young Folks at Home, City Survey Shows

Television is gradually changing the living habits of Victorians.

With some 6,000 sets already in operation throughout the area and with more sets being installed daily (approximately 500 each month at present) TV is becoming the new centre of home life.

Local set-owners can receive four stations generally with good images and sound, and some also receive two others to make a total of six television outlets available. With so many stations on hand, local televisioners are able to pick and choose their entertainment.

In an effort to determine the effect of TV on the home-life here, The Times made a house-to-house check of set-owners in various parts of the city, and six questions were asked.

"How many hours per day do you use your television set?"

This question brought answers ranging from only one hour to as high as 10. The average time among those questioned was 4.38 hours and that was generally evening listening.

"Have you stopped going out as much in the evening since you bought your TV set?"

Among younger people questioned, this inquiry brought a definite "yes." Older people, who don't usually go out much anyway, did not find much change.

Averaging out the replies, 48 per cent admitted staying at home more and 52 per cent had noticed no change. Of the 48 per cent however, about four-fifths were young married people.

"Do you read as many books and magazines now as you did before your set was installed?"

In this case, a solid 64 per cent admitted that they now read fewer books than before.

"Has television bothered your eyes at all?"

This query received an emphatic 84 per cent negative answer, and one woman felt that TV had actually helped her eyesight.

"Do you think the programs offered by TV stations are having a good effect on the public, especially children?"

This question was asked because of recent objections in the United States to the types of programs being shown on TV. But Victorians don't appear to have any complaints. Of those asked, 72 per cent felt that TV was doing no harm, 16 per cent felt the opposite, and 12 per cent said they didn't know.

Mrs. T. Derry, 2505 Cook Street, thought television was doing a wonderful job.

"We enjoy it in the evening, and the kids, flocks of them when all the neighbors' children show up, love the afternoon programs," she said. "Of course, TV could have a bad influence on the children if we allowed them to watch some of the late evening shows, but we don't."

"The shows are designed at certain times for different age-groups, and it's the parents' fault if their children see programs they shouldn't."

Television is obviously popular with owners. The final question brought that out.

"If you had to make the decision again as to whether or not to buy a set, what would you do?" Eighty-four per cent said they'd buy and the remaining 16 per cent said they thought they would but hadn't really had their sets long enough to be certain.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

As noted previously in this column, there are a great many objectionable people in Victoria, who are always objecting to something.

Well, you can now add the pup dog, Judy Boots Streak, and I to the ranks of the objectors.

We both object strenuously to the proposed expenditure of $50,000 to "improve" Holland Point.

The matter came up for discussion during the course of our afternoon walk yesterday. J.B. asked, casually, "Say, I've often wondered, is there any special name for this place where I take you for a walk every day?"

Of course there is, I told her, didn't you know? This is Holland Point.

"Holland Point, eh?" J.B. said. Then she did a perfect double take and yelled: "Did you say Holland POINT?"

I nodded.

She said: "Not the same Holland Point I read about in the paper?"

I said yes, the very same.

"You don't mean they are going to take out all these lovely, wild, natural bushes?" J.B. demanded.

That seems to be the idea, I said.

"There'll be no more winding, leafy tunnels for me to run through?" she continued.

I said it was more likely there would be concrete paths and rose bushes and ornamental gardens.

"Oh, this is awful," J.B. moaned.

Up to this point, I hadn't felt very strongly one way or the other about Holland Point. But J.B. was so concerned, I began to be worried.

What is bothering you so much, I asked her.

"I can see it all now," she wailed. "The neat paths, the manicured lawns, the flowers set out in stiff rows . . . the big, big signs."

What signs, I asked her.

"Keep off the grass," said J.B. "Don't pick flowers," said J.B. "And the one about the leash," J.B. added.

Good heavens, I cried, not that!

"Don't you see?" said J.B. "When I take you for your walk, I'll have to put you on the leash. You won't like that, will you?"

I certainly won't, I said.

COMMODORE PATRICK D. BUDGE, new officer commanding HMCS Naden, inspects guard, accompanied by Lieut. H. W. Vondette, officer in charge.

New Skipper Takes Command at Naden

HMCS Naden greeted its new commanding officer this morning, and bade farewell to Commodore Kenneth L. Dyer, DSC, who will take up new duties with the naval board, Ottawa.

Overhead was a sight rarely seen—two commodore's broad pennants, flying on separate masts. On the main mast was that of Commodore Patrick Donald Budge, DSC, who assumed command of Naden in a brief ceremony in front of the administration building.

The new commodore began his command by inspecting a 52-man guard drawn up near the quarter-deck and led by Lt. (G) H. W. Vondette.

Commodore Budge's arrival was signified by the alert, sounded by bugle.

He was greeted by Commodore Dyer, who has commanded Naden for 16 months.

Sounding of the commodore's salute signalled the inspection, which lasted about five minutes.

Both officers then entered the administration building, where Commodore Budge initiated the signal to Ottawa confirming the change in command.

It is Commodore Budge's third appointment to the west coast.

Commodore Dyer's 16 months' command of Naden will end on September 15.

Earthquakes Alter Island Peaks

By HUMPHRY DAVY

Earthquakes during the past 10 years have changed the face of several mountains on Vancouver Island, according to a team of 19 members of the Victoria section of the Canadian Alpine Club who have just returned from exploring Strathcona Park.

The alpine climbers saw evidence of this when they explored Mount Col. Foster, one of the most imposing rock peaks on the island. A large section of the mountain has peeled off and had fallen into a lake below, they said.

The landslide apparently destroyed all vegetation surrounding the lake. There were trees floating in the water.

A. W. Lash, chairman of the Victoria section, and in charge of the expedition, said the rock slide probably was caused by an earthquake which occurred since 1936.

SMALL TREMOR FELT HERE

A small earthquake awakened numerous people in Victoria and surrounding areas at about 5.50 this morning.

The Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Little Saanich Mountain reported the quake as a sharp, local one of medium intensity.

Both the Times and the observatory received a number of phone calls from people who felt the quake and wondered what was happening.

Each year traffic authorities count up an increasing number of accidents on the Labor Day weekend.

To change "the tune," B.C. Automobile Association today asked motorists to have their cars checked before making a trip, and then drive at a safe, sane speed, and drive sensibly.

Obedience the rules of the road may save not only your life but someone else's too, the association reminds.

Printing Toy Used to Forge Four Cheques

Two young city men who used a toy printing set to produce $226 in forged cheques which were cashed in the city, Esquimalt and Goldstream, will be sentenced on the first of four charges Friday.

Barry Keele, 23, 916 Talmie, and Timothy Cordick, 28, 713 Pembroke, pleaded guilty in city police court today to cashing a worthless cheque for $66.83 at a Goldstream beer parlor, August 14.

Keele pleaded guilty to cashing a second, made out to Cordick for $67.15 at the same place.

The pair had earlier entered guilty pleas at Esquimalt for a cheque for $46.32 and in Victoria for a cheque for $46.22.

Keele was remanded without plea to Tuesday on another charge of obtaining credit at a city department store through false pretenses.

Police said the cheques were forged in the name of J. S. Carlow, and each bore a printed firm name of Farwest Home Repair Company. The printing, they added, had been effected with the use of a child's toy printing set.

Both have previous criminal records, according to city prosecutor, Alan Bigelow. Since 1950, Keele has been convicted for theft, breaking and entering, armed robbery and theft of an auto, court was told. Cordick, since 1951, has convictions for assault and theft.

The pair were arrested following combined efforts of Colwood RCMP and city police.

Guilty Plea Entered In Forgery Charge

Earl Beresford, 39, 403 Heather, pleaded guilty today in city court to uttering a forged promissory note for $310. He was remanded to Friday for sentence.

City prosecutor Alan Bigelow said the circumstances were similar to those on which Beresford was found guilty August 7 when he was sentenced to nine months.

The current charge was dated back to June 3 when the accused apparently sold to G. Taylor, 845 Fort, a promissory note for $310. Later, the signatures were discovered to be false.

Douk Commissioner Named in 10 Days

Land Resale Inquiry Starts as School Opens

The B.C. government will appoint a Doukhobor lands allotment commissioner within 10 days, attorney-general's department officials said today.

This will coincide with the opening of schools, and is hoped to deter the Doukhobors from violent opposition to government go-to-school orders.

The commissioner, probably appointed from the Supreme Court, will delve into the history of the lands now occupied by Doukhobors in the Kootenay Valley. The land was once held by the now defunct Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, an incorporated company.

The company held land worked by communal-living Doukhobors. In 1937 the Sun Life Assurance Co. foreclosed on a loan, and in 1939 the National Trust Co. seized another portion of the land.

To prevent Doukhobor families from being thrown off their property, the provincial government obtained title to the land and interests involved, and title is still in the name of the province.

The Lands Settlement Board has been administering the land, which is still worked by the Doukhobors. Some pay nominal rental fees, some refuse to pay at all.

Government officials refuse comment on widely-spread reports Sons of Freedom members who refuse to obey the school attendance order and other laws will not be allowed to buy the land, whether or not they are present occupants.

This is said to be a point on which there is complete agreement in government circles.

ATTLEE UNLIKELY TO SPEAK HERE

Hopes for a Victoria visit by former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee faded here today following a telephone conversation with Harold Thayer, secretary of the B.C. Yukon CCF, in Vancouver.

Plans were to bring Mr. Attlee to Victoria under auspices of the local CCF organization. Mr. Thayer says it is not yet definite that the British Labor Party leader will speak publicly in Vancouver.

"I doubt very much he will be able to address a Victoria audience. His time in Vancouver is expected to be very short, probably between planes."

ASN Photographer Leaving Victoria For Montreal TV

A man who has photographed many of the world's notables in Victoria during the past 25 years, soon will be leaving on another "assignment," this time in Montreal.

Art Pollard, 3947 Cedar Hill Crossroad, of Associated Screen News, will leave in mid-September for the company's head office in Montreal where he expects to be tied in with TV production.

Veteran of many Mediterranean cruises with CPR boats as an official photographer, Mr. Pollard supplied most of the local pictures used by Victoria papers years ago before they had their own photographers.

As well, he did portrait work for guests at the Empress where ASN cameras are located. With Mr. Pollard's departure, the company closes operations here. Formerly the CPR and ASN were linked but now the organizations are separate companies.

Mr. Pollard has had pictures in Time, Life, National Geographic and other international publications.

Hair Bandeaux of All Types Quickly Becoming Popular

BY PENNY SAVER

As I gaze into my crystal ball, I foretell great popularity for the hair band. An article in a widely-read weekly magazine started it all. It showed the metal or plastic "clip-on" type which pulls the hair straight back, then lets it fall straight or in waves, whichever best suits the wearer. The very headbands shown in that magazine are now selling in Victoria at $3.50 for the silver one and $1.95 for the "tortoise shell" plastic one.

That was the beginning. Now hairbands of all types are making an appearance.

The clip-on idea has been modified by covering a springy piece of wire with velvet, dotting it with glittering rhinestones and adding a scrap of fine veiling which may be worn over the face or over the hair, holding it as a net. For evening, what could be dressier? You might even take the veiling off, and wear just the bandeau. Buy it in a shade to match your favorite gown... pink, yellow, blue, black or white. Price is $2.95.

The more pliable hairband, which ties under the hair at back, is seen today in metallic thread, prettily embroidered with sparkling sequins, bugle beads and tiny seed pearls. The metallic thread (in silver or gold), has been crocheted into a band not quite an inch wide, to form the base. Price is $3.95. Color is no problem. Nearly every hue in the rainbow is available in this type of bandeau.

Next thing, I imagine the teen-agers will be making their own bandeaux, by joining inch-wide strips of velvet ribbon together with bits of elastic. One half yard of velvet ribbon is enough to go around the head, costs very little and looks smart with sweater and skirt ensembles. Have one to match every sweater.

Protecting Baby from accidents means a constant watchfulness on your part. It's never safe to leave him alone while you're away on an errand, even if he's sleeping soundly. And never leave him in the bathtub alone even for the length of time it takes to answer doorbell or telephone. Be sure that the screens are secure and cannot be pushed out. Keep all small articles (particularly pins) out of his reach and let him have only those toys that have no buttons or whistles.

A Quiet Wedding Planned

The forthcoming marriage is announced by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Leach, Island Road, Oak Bay, of their niece, Mary Russell Turner, to Mr. Jack Berkeley Dyson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Dyson, North Vancouver. A quiet wedding is planned for September 25 at 3.30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church with Rev. Canon T. M. Hughes officiating. Miss Turner attended Queen Margaret's School, Duncan, and Victoria College, and graduated in X-ray technology from St. Joseph's Hospital, and returned from California in the spring where she has been on the staff of the St. Francis Hospital, Santa Barbara, for more than two years. Mr. Dyson, after attending school in Vancouver, received his degree in civil engineering at University of British Columbia, and for the past five years he has been with the department of fisheries, Prince Rupert.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

If you wear eyeglasses, try having several pairs. Have them in different shapes and colors so that you can wear them just exactly as you wear your other accessories.

A pantie girdle should be washed after each wearing. Use warm soapsuds and squeeze it gently to protect elasticized threads. Rinse in clear lukewarm water and blot it with a towel.

An easy way to acquire and keep that crisp, spicy look is to have several sets of washable switch-about collars and cuffs. And if you'll equip them with snaps, the changing is as simple as a twist of the wrist.

TODAY'S RECIPE

SPICE TWINS

Two packages or 2 cakes dry or compressed yeast, 1/2 cup warm water (lukewarm water for compressed yeast), 1 cup scalded milk, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup honey, 3 teaspoons salt, 2 cups rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked), 3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted enriched flour, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1 egg, beaten, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1/2 cup raisins.

Soften yeast in warm water. Pour scalded milk over shortening, honey and salt; stir occasionally until shortening melts.

Add rolled oats, cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup of the flour and the spices. Stir in egg and softened yeast. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn dough out on floured board and knead about 5 minutes. Divide dough in half. Work the chopped nuts into one half and the raisins into the other half, kneading until smooth and satiny (about 10 minutes total kneading time for each half). Round both halves into balls; place in greased bowls. Brush each ball of dough with melted shortening; cover and let rise in a warm place until double in size, about 1 hour. Punch down; cover and let rest 10 minutes.

Divide each part in half; form each part into a ball. Place the four balls on a greased cookie sheet to make two twin loaves (place one nut ball and one raisin ball together, leaving about an inch between). Cover and let rise until double, about 45 minutes. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 10 minutes; reduce oven temperature to slow (325° F.) and continue baking 30 to 35 minutes longer. Remove from oven and brush tops of loaves with melted butter. Makes two double loaves.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Want to Stay Young? Open Up Your Heart

If you really want to stay young, open up your heart! This will keep you younger in appearance and in spirit than any clothes or makeup, hairdo or facial.

People are so grand! I know there are some who deserve a good beating, but even these have their good points and most people are naturally kind and friendly, if we give them a chance to be.

It seems to me that our most important obligation to life is to add to the light of those about us rather than bring gloom to the atmosphere in which they live. Yet even the best people sometimes fall into dreary habits.

Some of them may have forgotten how to laugh. Others may go about with chips on their shoulders or grudges in their hearts. Some are ridiculously and foolishly sensitive, always watching out for their "rights." Still more may have formed the habit of being critical of others. Some may have become didactic, thinking that their opinion is the only one.

It is too bad that we must live so long before we become truly tolerant and that some folks never learn to understand that the cussedness in others is usually due to some personal worry or strain or to poor health. We never know what hidden hurts or frustrations or worries our next door neighbor may have.

What a waste of goodness, prejudice, unforgiveness and irritability are! While they add unhappiness to the lives of those about us, they damage us most of all. They take the verve out of our daily life, injure our health and age us faster than any other factor could.

So open your heart, as a part of your beauty routine.

If you would like my leaflet "Individual Happiness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 65 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Water Babies Ready for a Plunge

From left, Billy Howden and Billy Hickman ready to dive; Danny Howden leaning on fence; Mrs. Paddy (Avis) Walton in pool instructing Bobby Howden; Carol Walton, Alan Holmes, Tommy Walton, Murray Howden and Colin Johnson. On the fence, Mrs. Betty Howden and Johnny and Mrs. Elsie Holmes and Ronny.

Small fry who live in the immediate vicinity of "Elfin Pools," the Mount Tolmie home of Mr. and Mrs. Paddy Walton, have enjoyed swimming lessons this summer, each day when weather permitted.

Mrs. Avis Walton, the instructor, is following a family tradition in teaching the neighborhood children to swim, which she learned from her father, the late Charles F. Gray, when she was three years of age. In her system, the emphasis is placed upon safety and feeling "at home" in the water. Beginners wear life preservers in the pool when not receiving personal instruction. No one of any age or swimming ability is permitted in the pool alone. Swimming is by invitation only.

The pool was built with the help of friends, relations, neighbors and students from Mount Douglas School. It is in a natural rock formation, dug out and blasted to the proper depth. During its building, there were earth removing parties, rock throwing parties and cement pouring parties at the Walton home. Cement was piled and trowled on a rocky base, without the use of forms.

As her sister's only attendant, Miss Pat Mawdsley chose a light blue suit with box jacket.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown Honeymoon in United States

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robert Brown, now on honeymoon in the United States, are planning to make their home at 2109 Vancouver Street. The young couple were married, Saturday evening, in St. John's Anglican Church, by Canon George Bidle.

The bride, Donna May, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mawdsley, 3697 Craigmill Road, and the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Brown, 1227 Colville Road. Pastel gladioli decorated the church for the service and during the signing of the register Miss Doreen Vogel sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a suit of white English broadcloth with Peter Pan collar trimmed with opalescent beading. Her corsage of pink roses and stephanotis topped a white Bible and she wore white accessories.

As her sister's only attendant, Miss Pat Mawdsley chose a light blue suit with box jacket.

At the reception in the Olde England Inn, the bride's mother wore a royal blue sheer velvet ensemble with pink accessories and orchid corsage, for receiving guests. Mother of the groom chose a royal blue princess style dress with white accessories and corsage of red roses.

The triple-tiered wedding cake was topped with pink roses and flanked by tall white candles. Mrs. Brown donned a white mohair coat over her wedding ensemble for traveling.

Carne Rebekah Lodge, No. 45, Thursday, Odd Fellows' Hall, Douglas Street. The 32nd anniversary of the lodge will be celebrated with pot luck supper at 6.30 p.m. and social meeting at 7.30 p.m. Annual roll call. Visiting Rebekahs may attend.

At Forbidden Plateau

Victorians who have been vacationing at Forbidden Plateau Lodge recently include Miss K. Thompson, Mrs. M. Thompson and Mr. E. A. Ashcroft. Other guests at the lodge have been Mr. and Mrs. A. Paul Bellm and four sons and Mr. G. M. Pickup, all of Royal Oak, V.I., and Mr. W. B. Taylor, Nanaimo.

Reception at Castle, Royal Roads For Colorful Naval-RCMP Wedding

The Castle at Royal Roads was decorated with a profusion of cream gladioli this afternoon, for a reception which followed the wedding of Beverley Ann Rivett-Carnac and Sub-Lieut. (E) Arthur Frederick Griffin, RCN, in St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church.

Dean P. R. Beattie performed the ceremony for the daughter of Assistant-Commissioner Charles Rivett-Carnac, RCMP, and Mrs. Rivett-Carnac, 2560 Cotswold Road, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Griffin, Toronto, Ont.

An exquisite heirloom wedding veil of hand-made Belgian lace, completely lined with illusion net and sweeping into a tri-pointed cathedral train, was worn by the lovely bride. It was held by a headpiece fashioned of circlets of seed pearls, some of which were sprinkled on the veil.

The wedding gown of heavy ivory bridal satin was styled on simple, classic lines, with sweetheart neckline, lily point sleeves and full, crinolined skirt. Only jewelry worn was a necklace of tiny pearls in a delicate gold setting, which had belonged to the bride's grandmother. Johanna Hill roses and lily of the valley formed the crescent-shaped bouquet. Her father gave her in marriage.

Attending her sister, Miss Frances Rivett-Carnac wore a gown of lustrous yellow satin, having a scoop neckline, puff sleeves and full, gathered skirt. Her headpiece was a hand-made Grecian bandeau of clustered grapes and leaves worn to one side, fashioned of yellow satin to match her gown. She carried a crescent bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

A striking contrast to the pastels of the bride and her attendant were the naval and RCMP uniforms worn by the groom, father of the bride, the best man, and the ushers.

Sub-Lt. (E) R. Houston, RCN, was best man and ushers were Sub-Lt. (E) G. Ernst, RCN, Sub-Lt. (E) R. Gibbons, RCN, Insp. G. R. Engel, RCMP, and Insp. J. T. Parsons, RCMP.

Mrs. Rivett-Carnac received guests at the reception. She wore an afternoon length gown of imported Chantilly lace in candlelight beige shade with matching satin piping forming panels on the Empire waistline and outlining the gores of the skirt. Lace flowers were applied on the neckline and cuffs. Her hat was a matching lace shell toque faced with contrasting velvet, and her corsage was of red roses.

Mother of the groom, Mrs. Griffin, chose a dress of blue metallic nylon fabric, white fur jacket, white accessories and corsage of gardenias and Pinocchio roses.

The young newlyweds cut their three-tier wedding cake with the groom's sword. A cream figured satin cloth covered the bride's table and red roses in crystal vases flanked the cake, which was surrounded by greenery.

Col. C. B. Ware, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to her happiness.

For traveling, the bride changed to a dress of beige shantung silk, patterned in coffee brown. Her princess style coat was also coffee brown and she wore a velour cloche of beige with shoes and bag to match. Johanna Hill roses formed her corsage.

By BILL PARKER

There will be plenty of music tonight on the CBC. Besides the BBC Commonwealth Composers' program which we mentioned Tuesday night, two other programs of interest to music lovers will be featured.

At 9 p.m., CBU will carry a program of organ music honoring the annual convention of the Canadian College of Organists in Toronto.

Spotlighted on the show will be E. Powers Biggs, one of the most famous of all American organists, and Douglas Bodie, well-known Toronto harpsichordist.

(These program listings are as supplied by the stations themselves and The Times is not responsible for last minute changes or other alterations.) Pacific Daylight Time.

August Weather Close To 54-Year Records

Victoria weather during August came close to shattering two 54-year-old records and one set in 1928.

Mean temperature during the month, 57.8 degrees, was equivalent to the previous low for August set in 1900, and represents 2.2 degrees less than the all-time normal mean temperature.

Mean maximum temperature last month was 64 degrees, lowest mark since August, 1900, when thermometers averaged a maximum of 63.3 degrees, lowest since records were begun in 1899.

Hours of sunlight were only six minutes better than the all-time low in August, 1928, which registered 213.5. This year there were 213.6 or 87.5 hours less than the all-time normal.

While total sunshine to date since Jan. 1 is 20.1 hours better than last year, the figure 1513.5 hours is still 194.6 hours below the all-time normal.

COUNCIL MEETINGS BROADCAST

SUBSURY, Ont. (CP)—Subsury council voted 6 to 5 Tuesday night to allow the city's two radio stations to make recordings of council proceedings for broadcast purposes.

The vote was taken after station CKSO began recording the meeting without warning councillors.

It was in 1913 that a hill slide of rock, poorly blasted by rail crews, tumbled into the Fraser River and cut off the main bulk of the salmon migrations for more than three decades.

RUNS RESTORED

The conquest of the rock barrier with fish ladders at Hell's Gate restored the once rich runs to the spawning grounds of the Adams River which flows into the Fraser farther north. The fishway project, at a cost of $2,000,000, was completed by Canadian and United States capital.

The sockeyes run on a four-year life cycle. The forebears of this year's run went up the Fraser to a tributary, the Adams, via the new fishway in 1946. An increased run was checked in 1950 and this year's second generation is the golden harvest.

It is a unique situation for the north Pacific, where Alaska salmon catches have dropped until they have become a major governmental concern and most river runs in the Pacific northwest have fallen off in the face of hydro-electric dam barriers and other industrial developments.

CALLED UP

BUFFALO, N.Y. (BUP)—The Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League announced today that Don McLean, a left-winger, and defenseman Bob Maxwell had been called up from the St. Catharine Teepees, Canadian junior champions.

OCTOPUS BECAME CURIOUS; NOW INMATE OF AQUARIUM

VANCOUVER (CP)—The civic aquarium here has a new inmate—a slightly-wounded, inquisitive, 10-foot octopus.

The creature was presented to the city by Bert Mona, 22-year-old, underwater fisherman. Mona told attendants the octopus reached out for him while he was diving in search of an outboard motor.

Wearing his "frogman" suit, he returned to the surface and rejoined the battle armed with a spear gun. He shot the octopus through a tentacle and brought it to the surface where he hauled it into a boat, tossed it into a barrel of salt water and rushed it to the aquarium.

No Crackdown Seen Here on Slot Machines

A city police court judgment ordering Tuesday the confiscation of three pinball machines owned by a newsstand operator will not affect some 30 other licensed machine owners in Victoria.

City solicitor A. J. Patton, commenting on the judgment, said today the operation of pinball machines is legal, providing they are not used as a game of chance.

Under the Municipal Act, city council had the right to grant licenses for the operation of the machines, he said.

The police court judgment was rendered by Magistrate A. I. Thomas against Benjamin Hall, convicted of operating a gaming house. He was fined $300 and his machines were confiscated after a plain-clothes police officer was paid 20 cents cash for free games rung up on one of the machines.

Mr. Patton pointed out that in Benjamin Hall's case money had been passed for free games. This was contrary to the Criminal Code, he said, and a person convicted was liable to a fine or term of imprisonment.

"As long as there is no money involved, the game is legal," he said.

There are some 30 persons holding licenses for operating the machines in Victoria. They are taxed $60 a year by the city for operating the machines.

It was pointed out, however, that if the operation of pinball machines became too troublesome for the police, city council could pass a by-law prohibiting any person under 18 years of age from playing.

Committee of Five Oversees Labor Day Soap Box Derby

Officials for Victoria Soap Box Derby, Labor Day, have been named by committee chairman Archie McKeever.

Included on judging panel will be Col. J. C. Cave, Esquimalt Garrison Commandant; Lieut.-Cmdr. I. H. MacDonald, housing officer at HMCS Naden; deputy mayor Frank Mulliner; Magistrate A. I. Thomas; and a representative from local RCAF headquarters.

To greet judges and acquaint them with rules and regulations so that they may oversee running of races, will be R. B. Wilson of Wilson Motors W. J. Fulton of Knights of Pythias, and Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Daily Times.

The Times, Wilson Motors and Victoria Knights of Pythias co-sponsor the derby.

Bob Wensley, well-known local automobile race starter, will flag down at the finish line, and Art Worth, Toledo Scales representative, will act as official weigher of racing bugs.

Trucks to haul bugs from the foot of Yates Street hill finish line, will be supplied by Dowell's and McIlwaine Brothers' transfer companies. Drivers and crews will be from the mechanical staff of Wilson Motors, as well as race car inspectors.

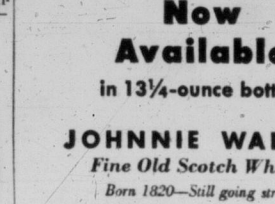

Prince George Tot Dies Under Car Wheels

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—Backing away from the home of his brother, Joseph Vogler "felt a bump." Investigating, he found his 18-month-old nephew, Peter Vogler, under the rear of the car. Three hours later the boy was dead.

Police said the uncle told them Monday the child was about eight feet away when he started backing his car. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Vogler.

McGeough New Mediator for Bakery Lockout

VANCOUVER (CP)—A new mediator has been appointed to seek a settlement of the strike lockout which has shut down six major Vancouver bakeries for 55 days, it was reported Tuesday.

A spokesman for the operators said the new mediator is Michael H. McGeough, retired provincial labor department executive. Mr. McGeough declined to comment on the spokesman's anonymous announcement.

Mel Kemmis, secretary of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union, AFL-TLC, could not be reached for comment.

The strike-lockout began July 8 when union members walked out to back up demands for a 35-hour week.

ROYAL NOW SHOWING

Douk Education Policy Outlined by Williston

Aspects of the provincial government's education policy in Kootenay Doukhobor country were explained in an illuminated address by education minister Ray Williston before Victoria Kiwanis Club at Empress Hotel Tuesday noon.

The minister used colored slides to illustrate some of the problems encountered and work being done by his department in the periodically troubled area.

Integration of children of radical Doukhobors with orthodox and non-Doukhobor pupils in public schools is a recent program which has met with some success so far.

A former New Denver sanitarium, built during the war for displaced Japanese, has been turned into a dormitory for Doukhobor students. There they are conditioned, as during the past summer, to ready them for regular school at New Denver.

Another aid to education of Doukhobors will be a ferry across the Kootenay River to enable children from Glade to attend classes in the Tarry's School.

Among the slides were included views of the 19,000 acres of choice arable land formerly owned by Doukhobors, but sold by mortgagors to the provincial government when the Doukhobor organization became bankrupt near the start of the Second World War.

At present, the land is untitled, but for certain areas where the people grow just enough to live on.

View Royal Garden Show September 11

The annual fall show of the View Royal Garden Club will open at 2 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 11, in the View Royal Community Hall.

Floral displays, fruit, vegetable and commercial exhibits will be featured. A total of 75 different classes are open for competition with prizes offered in each class.

Information concerning entries is available from Edward Gee, 301 Beaumont Avenue.

GUARD COSTS EXCEED VALUE OF SCHOOLS

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Some 20 guards patrolling Kootenay-Boundary schools against possible destruction by radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were sworn in as special RCMP constables today.

The move, bringing the guards under direct RCMP supervision, will give patrols more authority in dealing with troublemakers than they had while under the department of education.

Approximately 20 other guards will be released from duty on smaller schools.

The schools, many of them not worth more than $3,000, have already cost the government more than their value through wages paid to special guards.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—The interests of Dorothy Taylor in the Columbian Company Ltd., publishers of the British Columbia here have been purchased by the remaining shareholders, it was announced Tuesday. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Miss Taylor, a one-third owner of the family-controlled daily newspaper, was dismissed from the post of editor last May because of a "difference in operational policy."

Laing Warns Bennett Against Allowing Alberta 'Grab' of Natural Gas Supplies

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arthur Laing, provincial Liberal party leader, has asked Premier W. A. C. Bennett to save British Columbia from an alleged "grab" of its natural gas resources by Alberta and the Fish Engineering Corp. of Houston, Texas.

In a telegram to the Social Credit premier, Mr. Laing said a plan is under way to pipe gas from the B.C.-Alberta Peace River districts to the United States, thus depriving the B.C. interior of supplies from the province's gas fields.

Mr. Laing said the Texas firm plans to pipe Peace River gas by a line built east of the Rockies, with a spur to be constructed from the U.S. later to supply the Vancouver area and the Kootenay district.

The Texas interests are backing Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation, whose application to supply natural gas to the ning is highly favorable to construction of an all-Alberta line, thus robbing our northern interior, Prince George, the Cariboo and Okanagan areas of prospective development.

Biggest Run in History

Riches Netted From Fish Run

$24,000 Haul Reported by One Man; Hell's Gate Development Justified

From CP, BUP Dispatches

Teeming millions of sockeye salmon, forced by instinct to a date with death in the spawning grounds of the Adams River in interior B.C., have brought wealth beyond dreams to commercial fishermen.

PLAYFUL MOOD?

Small Boats Endangered By Seiners

"Fishhappy" purse seiner crews, jubilant after making one of the richest hauls of sockeye salmon in 30 years, endangered the lives of anglers off Oak Bay Tuesday night as they swept through the sport fishing fleet on their way to harbor.

"There is no doubt that the smaller craft were 'played with' by the larger vessels," said S. Dacre Scott of the Oak Bay Boat House.

One 13-foot boat was nearly swamped when two of the large fishing vessels, throwing huge, rolling wakes, "sandwiched" the smaller craft between them. A cruiser owner was stalked by a commercial craft, and one man with four children in his small boat was reported forced into the safety of help beds offshore from Ten Mile Point to avoid being harassed by the gleeful seiners.

Edgar "Red" Wells, 850 Victoria Avenue, was literally "hunted down" by one vessel while fishing from his cruiser off the golf links.

"It came right for me no matter which way I went," he said. "I thought it was heading to crash me. It finally veered away when I steered into the help to get out of the way."

Some sports fishermen talked of carrying rifles in future if such tactics continue.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson were fishing off Trial Island when two commercial boats passed them at full speed allowing them only 10 feet of clearance.

"The wash almost upset the small boat," said Mr. Scott. "Mr. Robinson managed to keep afloat by bailing, but the boat's wash stopped his motor. He had to be towed in."

Mr. Robinson is a fireman at HMC Dockyard.

One of the offending boats was identified by Mr. Scott.

The fabulous Adams River run also has brought about complete justification of the Hell's Gate development on the Fraser River, if any was needed.

The fish have been caught by seiners and gillnetters since they turned up in Juan de Fuca Strait almost two weeks ago. Catches have been fantastic, and incomes have rivalled the stock market's golden days.

One fisherman told a Times reporter at Ogden Point today that he had made $24,000 in the season.

"I'm not working any more this year," he said. He spoke of a companion who made $2,000 for half a day's work.

Marketing prospects for the huge catch appear "reasonably bright," according to a government spokesman.

The 1953 pack has been "cleaned up," he said. Several foreign markets are opening, and the home market will be exploited fully, he said.

Canadian fishermen have been barred from certain districts in order that the United States commercial fleet can catch up. According to regulations of the International Salmon Fisheries Commission, that conquered the Hell's Gate blockade, the two nations must share equally in the runs.

CANADIANS LUCKY

Closures will be lifted Sept. 7, however, when it is expected the United States fishermen will have established parity.

Canadians did exceptionally well because bulk of the run, for the first time in years, confined itself to Canadian waters. So vast has been the harvest that four canneries at Steveston have gone on an around-the-clock basis, fighting to process one day's catch before the next arrives.

In at least one fishing town, Anacortes, Wash., school children have been excused to work in the canneries—main industry at that tiny point.

6,000,000 FISH

Boats of both countries have hauled in more than 6,000,000 salmon so far this season.

To fishermen alone, these silvery cargoes have been valued at $10,500,000.

Lloyd Royal, director of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Association, the body which regulates fishing in offshore Pacific waters, shared by the U.S. and Canada, said the sockeye catch this year will exceed 10,000,000.

Half-Billion Property Loss In Hurricane

48 Known Dead; Quebec Suffers

BOSTON (UP)—A new tropical storm boiled north off the Florida coast today in the wake of Hurricane Carol.

The new disturbance, Hurricane Dolly, was reported centered 725 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla., at noon and moving northward at 20 miles an hour.

The weather bureau said it appeared the storm would move north rapidly during the next 12 to 18 hours and gain intensity.

BOSTON (AP)—Hurricane Carol spent itself out in Canada today after ramming through the New England states with a fury that left at least 48 persons dead and property damaged estimated at nearly $500,000,000.

The storm, which expired north of Quebec City, did its worst damage in New England, where it cut a destructive path comparable to that of the disastrous 1938 hurricane.

(Canadian Press from Montreal said the hurricane left two known dead and property damage estimated at more than $1,000,000 in Southern Quebec.)

(The Montreal and Quebec city districts were the heaviest hit by the day-long storm which reached its peak Tuesday night.

Blinding sheets of rain, driven by winds ranging to 75 miles an hour, disrupted traffic and communications, toppled trees and caused other property damage and floods.)

(McGill University observatory officials reported that 2.57 inches of rain fell on Quebec City in 24-hour period Tuesday. The record is 2.86 inches set August 21, 1952.)

YACHTS DAMAGED

(More than 50 yachts, some valued at $20,000, were torn from moorings at the Quebec Yacht Club in suburban Sillery and either sank or were dashed against rocks. Damage there was estimated at $100,000.)

Hundreds of summer homes were destroyed and thousands of small boats were lost or damaged as the storm whipped wildly with gusts up to 125 miles an hour. From the beaches of New London, Conn., it spread northward in a wide path across Rhode Island, Cape Cod, eastern and central Massachusetts, and parts of New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont.

Some officials estimated that the damage was the greatest property loss in New England by a hurricane.

WITHOUT LIGHT

However, Hurricane Carol was so well plotted that loss of life was far below the toll of 317 persons who perished in the Sept. 21, 1938, hurricane, which struck New England without warning.

Utilities companies said hundreds of communities may be without electricity for several days. At least 150,000 telephones today were reported still out in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Maine.

It was estimated the hurricane had left about one-third of New England's 10,000,000 population without power or electricity.

N.S. Mill Worker Slaughters Daughters, Wife, Suicides

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—Police said today that a Negro mill worker hanged his young wife and two daughters to death early today and then committed suicide by placing his head under the exhaust pipe of a car.

The triple-murder took place at Lucasville, a small community about 10 miles west of Halifax.

An RCMP spokesman said it looked like "a fairly clear case" of murder and suicide after they found the body of Leo Reginald Oliver, 27, sprawled at the rear of a car whose motor was still running.

Oliver had placed his face near the exhaust pipe and police said there was little doubt the cause of death was carbon monoxide poisoning.

A reminder to city motorists that schools reopen next Tuesday was issued by Police Chief John Blackstock today. "There will be 1,000 more beginners this fall than started last year. Most of them have little or no training regarding crossings and every driver must use extra caution."

"New students will be taking over duties of crossing patrols and they too will be unfamiliar with the dangers. Extra police will be assigned to school crossings wherever possible, and no laxity by motorists will be tolerated," he said.

Proposal To Be Put To 8-Nation Parley

Compiled From Reuters, UP Dispatches

LONDON—The British cabinet today decided to call an early eight-power conference, including the six nations who signed the now defunct European army treaty, the United States and Britain, to discuss an alternative method of rearming Western Germany.

If the agreement is reached on the meeting, it will probably take place in London within the next three weeks, it was learned.

Britain will propose to the meeting that West Germany now should be rearmed, with safeguards against any resurgence of national militarism, and brought directly into the Atlantic pact.

The cabinet took its decisions at a two-hour meeting presided over by Prime Minister Churchill who broke off his country vacation because of the crisis in western defence policies.

The conference would be one of foreign ministers.

The six nations which joined the EDC — rejected by the French National Assembly on Monday — are France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

PRELIMINARY TO NATO

The new meeting would be a preliminary to the special ministerial session of the 14-power Atlantic pact council, as proposed Tuesday by U.S. State Secretary Dulles.

Churchill called in for part of the cabinet meeting Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British ambassador to France; Sir Frederick Hoyer-Millar, British high commissioner in Germany; and Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, permanent official head of the foreign office.

The urgent British cabinet session was held amid the following developments:

1. Washington: Officials disclosed that the United States may ask the Allies to align West Germany with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). The United States sees no other answer to the German rearmament problem, the officials said. However, President Eisenhower and his National Security Council have not reached their final decision on the problem.

2. Paris: Premier Pierre Mendès-France was reported to have informed sources, planning a proposal for German rearmament which would combine into a joint army-European soldiers, but not her armies. The plan would bring together as soon as possible new units of German troops with soldiers from France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, the sources said. This would create a "pool of rifles" rather than a "pool of generals" which would have been built under the EDC, the French sources said.

3. Rome: The Italian government, which waited out EDC, called for strengthening the Atlantic alliance to make up for the collapse of the European army plan. An official foreign office statement emphasized West Germany must be an equal member of the western family of nations.

NATO TO MEET

PARIS (Reuters)—The standing group of the North Atlantic council, made up of the United States, Britain, and French chiefs of staff, will meet in Paris Sept. 14.

When he was asked if jet planes escorted the delegation's plane from the Soviet Union into Red China, Franklin said:

"Oh, I have nothing to say about that and wouldn't know anything about such things. I'm a pacifist, you know."

Franklin said the Chinese impressed the delegation with their "drive and energy" but considered them "miles behind" Britain and the United States industrially.

"They are using every available inch of land for cultivation," Franklin said.

There was no immediate reaction from the group to blasts against "Attlee" from certain British newspapers.

One editorial writer described the source of her information as "yellow travelers" and others complained about Attlee's boasts to the Chinese who had confiscated British holdings.

"Well, well," Franklin quipped.

On Way Out?

Findings of the McCarthy Army hearings committee have put President Eisenhower under new pressure to retire United States Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, above. Both Republican and Democratic members of the committee fired criticism at Stevens but the Republicans dealt more harshly with Stevens than with McCarthy. In spite of their party ties the Republicans charged Stevens with exhibiting "mistaken judgment, injudicious action and indiscreet activities."

New Canadian Bank Notes Next Week

OTTAWA (CP)—About $10,000,000 of the Bank of Canada's new notes will go into circulation next week, it was learned today.

Every bank branch will have a "modest supply" of the commoner denominations on hand, an official said.

That is the start of a change-over of about 160,000,000 bank notes worth $1,500,000,000 usually in circulation. The switch, for all common bank notes, is expected to take about 1 1/2 years.

The new notes are the first in Canada to carry the Queen's portrait. The reverse sides carry typical Canadian scenes, instead of the present allegorical figures.

Ottawa Decides On Arbitrator

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent said today the government has decided whom it will name to arbitrate the labor contract dispute between the railway companies and their 145,000 non-operating employees.

He told reporters following a morning meeting of the cabinet that the name of the arbitrator will be announced after his terms of reference have been decided. The labor department was working with the unions and the companies on the terms of reference.

Attlee, 'Yellow Travelers' End Tour Behind 'Bamboo Curtain'

HONG KONG (UP)—Clement Attlee brought his British Laborite delegation out of Red China today from a tour that sections of the British press blasted as ill-timed.

The former British prime minister appeared weary and haggard when he walked off the train, leaning on a cane.

Attlee declined to comment on the Labor party delegation's inspection of Red China's facilities and let Henry W. Franklin of the National Union of Railwaymen do most of the talking.

Franklin appeared annoyed by some of the questions asked by newsmen and answered them sharply.

He was informed by one newsmen that the train which brought the group out of Red China into Hong Kong was the first that had crossed the border since 1949.

"Well, well," Franklin quipped.

"This should be a new approach to world affairs."

When he was asked if jet planes escorted the delegation's plane from the Soviet Union into Red China, Franklin said:

"Oh, I have nothing to say about that and wouldn't know anything about such things. I'm a pacifist, you know."

Franklin said the Chinese impressed the delegation with their "drive and energy" but considered them "miles behind" Britain and the United States industrially.

"They are using every available inch of land for cultivation," Franklin said.

There was no immediate reaction from the group to blasts against "Attlee" from certain British newspapers.

One editorial writer described the source of her information as "yellow travelers" and others complained about Attlee's boasts to the Chinese who had confiscated British holdings.

"Well, well," Franklin quipped.

"The Attlee visit also brought bitter comment from the American press."

Dr. Edith Summerskill, for whom Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov picked a bouquet of flowers while the group was in Moscow, wanted to talk about women's work in Red China.

She said the mortality rate among infants in Red China was only 4 per cent now and it used to be 20 per cent.

Dr. Summerskill said the source of her information was an opinion that Mao Tse-tung was still No. 1 man in the regime and Premier Chou En-lai was second in command.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today indicated that federal by-elections to fill six vacancies in the House of Commons will not be held before Oct. 25.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wally Ross, self-acknowledged labor "spy" for the United Steelworkers of America (CIO), today predicted his union will snatch jurisdiction of Kitimat and Kemano aluminum workers from the rival American Federation of Labor by next April.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. L. A. Swain, PTA school education chairman, said here today her association does not intend protesting at this time about this year's report cards. Education Minister Ray Williston said Monday the cards will be the same as used last year. The PTA previously criticized the report cards as being difficult to understand. Recommendations may be made to the minister in November after an inquiry by the PTA.

Canada's Ted Atkinson Rides 3,000th Winner

NEW YORK (UP)—Ted Atkinson, the fourth jockey in racing history to ride 3,000 or more winners when he guided Devastation to victory in today's third race at Aqueduct.

Britain's Sir Gordon Richards, who retired recently after riding a record 4,870 winners; English-born Johnny Longden who does most of his riding in California, and Eddie Arcaro are the other little men who previously gained the select circle. Atkinson rode three winners Tuesday at Aqueduct to put himself within easy range at 2,999 triumphs. He got his 3,000th winner with his 18,112th mount.

Ted, who was born in Toronto in 1916, collected his first winner when he scored with Musical Jack at Beulah Park in Ohio on May 18, 1938. It was fitting that Atkinson rode his 3,000th winner at Aqueduct. He has posted more of his victories at Aqueduct than at any other track.

The Queens County Jockey Club will mark the milestone by giving Ted a trophy Saturday. Atkinson, who is 38, recorded his first winner when he was 21. He never has won a Kentucky Derby but has scored in most other big eastern races. His mounts have earned $1,948,105 in stake races.

The Queens County Jockey Club will mark the milestone by giving Ted a trophy Saturday. Atkinson, who is 38, recorded his first winner when he was 21. He never has won a Kentucky Derby but has scored in most other big eastern races. His mounts have earned $1,948,105 in stake races.

It was fitting that Atkinson rode his 3,000th winner at Aqueduct. He has posted more of his victories at Aqueduct than at any other track.

Ed Lopat Star As Yanks Win

Scatters Nine Hits as New York
Ctuz Cleveland Lead to 4½ Games

NEW YORK (UP)—Lefty Ed Lopat beat the Cleveland Indians for the 40th time in his career today when he scattered nine hits in a 4-1 victory that moved the New York Yankees to within 4½ games of the American League lead.

Yogi Berra hit a two-run homer for New York in the sixth inning.

Lopat, famous for his "junk" hurling, was complete master of the league leaders. He gave up the Indians' lone run in the third inning when catcher Ilegan tripped into the left field corner and scored on an out-field fly.

REAL HURLING

After the Yankees had moved into a 2-1 lead in the fourth on singles by Berra, Noren and a double by pinch-hitter Robinson, Lopat cut loose with some real clutch hurling in the top of the sixth. With the bases loaded and none out he struck out the dangerous Larry Doby on a 3-2 pitch, then took the next two batters on pop ups to shut the door on Cleveland.

Berra's home run after a single by Mantle gave the Yankees their insurance runs in the sixth.

Two clubs will meet in the third game of their crucial series Thursday afternoon. Cleveland won the opener Tuesday night 6-1. If they hope to remain close to the pace-setters, the world champion Yankees must win the clincher.

Biggest Run in 41 Years

Riches Netted From Fish Run

$24,000 Haul Reported by One Man,
Hell's Gate Development Justified

From CP, BUP Dispatches

Teeming millions of sockeye salmon, forced by instinct to a date with death in the spawning grounds of the Adams River in interior B.C., have brought wealth beyond dreams to commercial fishermen.

The fabulous Adams River run also has brought about complete justification of the Hell's Gate development on the Fraser River, if any was needed.

The fish have been caught by seiners and gillnetters since they turned up in Juan de Fuca Strait almost two weeks ago. Catches have been fantastic, and incomes have rivalled the stock market's golden days.

One fisherman told a Times reporter at Ogden Point today that he had made $24,000 in the season.

"I'm not working any more this year," he said. He spoke of a companion who made $2,000 for half a day's work.

Marketing prospects for the huge catch appear "reasonably bright," according to a government spokesman.

The 1953 pack has been "cleaned up," he said. Several foreign markets are opening, and the home market will be exploited fully, he said.

Canadian fishermen have been barred from certain districts in order that the United States commercial fleet can catch up.

According to regulations of the International Salmon Fisheries Commission, that conquered the Hell's Gate blockade, the two nations must share equally in the runs.

CANADIANS LUCKY

Closures will be lifted Sept. 7, however, when it is expected the United States fishermen will have established parity.

8-Power Conference To Deal With Plan

Compiled From Reuters, UP Dispatches

LONDON—The British cabinet today decided to call an early eight-power conference, including the six nations who signed the now defunct European army treaty, the United States and Britain, to discuss an alternative method of rearming Western Germany.

If the agreement is reached on the meeting, it will probably take place in London within the next three weeks, it was learned.

Britain will propose to the meeting that West Germany now should be rearmed, with safeguards against any resurgence of national militarism, and brought directly into the Atlantic pact.

The cabinet took its decisions at a two-hour meeting presided over by Prime Minister Churchill who broke off his country vacation because of the crisis in western defence policies.

The conference would be one of foreign ministers.

The six nations which joined the EDC—rejected by the French National Assembly on Monday—are France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The new meeting would be a preliminary to the special ministerial session of the 14-power Atlantic pact council, as proposed Tuesday by U.S. State Secretary Dulles.

Churchill called in for part of the cabinet meeting Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British ambassador to France; Sir Frederick Hoyer-Millar, British high commissioner in Germany; and Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, permanent official head of the foreign office.

NO FINAL DECISION

The urgent British cabinet session was held amid the following developments:

1. Washington: Officials disclosed that the United States may ask the Allies to align West Germany with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). The United States sees no other answer to the German rearmament problem, the officials said. However, President Eisenhower and his National Security Council have not reached their final decision on the problem.

2. Paris: Premier Pierre Mendes-France was reported by informed sources planning a proposal for German rearmament which would combine into a joint army Europe's soldiers, but not her armies. The plan would bring together as soon as possible new units of German troops with soldiers from France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg, the sources said. This would create a "pool of rifles" rather than a "pool of generals" which would have been built under the EDC, the French sources said.

3. Rome: The Italian government, which waited out EDC, called for strengthening the Atlantic alliance to make up for the collapse of the European army plan. An official foreign office statement emphasized West Germany must be an equal member of the western family of nations.

NATO TO MEET

PARIS (Reuters)—The standing group of the North Atlantic council, made up of the United States, British and French chiefs of staff, will meet in Paris Sept. 14.

VANCOUVER (CP)—John Postnikoff, 26, today was sentenced to two years in prison for possession of drugs.

It was his second conviction. Magistrate Gordon Scott was told detectives seized more than 30 capsules of heroin July 7.

On Way Out?

Findings of the McCarthy-Army hearings committee have put President Eisenhower under new pressure to retire United States Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, above. Both Republican and Democratic members of the committee fired criticism at Stevens but the Republicans dealt more harshly with Stevens than with McCarthy. In spite of their party ties the Republicans charged Stevens with exhibiting "mistaken judgment, injudicious action and indiscreet activities."

Half-Billion Property Loss In Hurricane

48 Known Dead;
Quebec Suffers

BOSTON (UP)—A new tropical storm boiled north off the Florida coast today in the wake of Hurricane Carol.

The new disturbance, Hurricane Dolly, was reported centred 725 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla., at noon and moving northward at 20 miles an hour.

The weather bureau said it appeared the storm would move north rapidly during the next 12 to 18 hours and gain intensity.

BOSTON (AP)—Hurricane Carol spent itself out in Canada today after ramming through the New England states with a fury that left at least 48 persons dead and property damaged estimated at nearly $500,000,000.

The storm, which expired north of Quebec City, did its worst damage in New England, where it cut a destructive path comparable to that of the disastrous 1938 hurricane.
